U.S. Outlook Called 'Grim'

U.S. Discloses New Corn-Purchasing Policy

Plan Aimed To Off-Set CCC Sales

Off-Grade Corn Sales To Be Balanced by 'Good Corn' Purchase

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Agricultural Department announced plans today to try to avoid depressing the market with its sales of off-grade corn.

The plan calls for stepped-up sales of off-grade corn in danger of spoiling and the purchase of "moderate quantities" of good quality corn so the marketing of the off-grade corn will have minimum effect in the grain market.

The plan was announced in a brief statement, which President John H. Davis of the Commodity Credit Corporation amplified in talking with reporters.

Some Criticism
There has been some congressional criticism of CCC's corn-selling and only Wednesday the Senate Agricultural Committee announced plans to look into it.

Davis told reporters no political considerations were involved in the action today. Rather, he said it is aimed to avoid the loss of feed value in the low quality corn and at the same time influence the market as little as possible.

Davis said he could give no estimates on the quantity of off-grade corn to be sold or on how much good quality corn might be bought in the operation.

He said the amount of corn to be bought would depend on the market reaction to the sales of off-grade corn.

To Make Inventory
The CCC has about 236 million bushels of corn which it acquired through price-support operations. Davis said an inventory is underway to find out how much of this corn is off-grade and should be disposed of quickly.

In recent weeks, the CCC has been disposing of corn at an average rate of about 800,000 bushels a week, without offsetting buying. This has prompted some members of congress to say the selling had a depressing effect on the market. The operation announced today is not designed to influence prices one way or the other, Davis said.

Two Wills to Probate Here

Two wills were admitted to probate Wednesday in Lee county court by Judge Grover Gehant.

David E. Gardner, 1224 Peoria av., who died Jan. 10 in Dixon, left his $160,000 estate to his widow, Mrs. Kathryn M. Gardner.

The estate includes $100,000 in personal property and $60,000 in real estate.

The $54,000 estate of the late George B. Tabor, who died Feb. 2, in Pawpaw, was left to his widow Mrs. Bertha R. Tabor.

The estate consists of $22,000 in personal property and $32,000 in real estate.

Charge Amboy Man Took Jobless Pay Fraudulently

An Amboy man was arrested today on an information filed by Illinois Attorney General Latham Castle charging the defendant with accepting unemployment compensation while actually working.

William Appleman sr., Amboy, was arrested this morning by Chief Deputy Sheriff John Stouffer and brought before Lee County Judge Grover Gehant for a hearing.

State's Attorney James Bales, Lee county, will prosecute Appleman on the charges levied by Castle.

Judge Gehant continued the case until March 2 when Appleman will be arraigned in county court to plead guilty or not guilty.

In the information against the defendant, Appleman was charged with illegally accepting unemployment

Her Freedom of the Press Essay Wins Elks Prize

Fined $1,156 Here For Heavy Cargo

William L. Grimm, Springfield, O., was fined $1,156 today after he pleaded guilty in Lee county court to a charge of driving an overweight vehicle.

Grimm was arrested yesterday by State Police Officer Donald Sachs, Ashton, and bound over to county court after a hearing before Compton Justice of the Peace Elliot Arnold.

In an information prepared by State's Attorney James Bales, Grimm was charged with operating his truck with an overload of 11,560 in excess of the legal limit of 32,000 pounds.

Grimm was en route to West Chicago when he was arrested at the weigh station on U. S. Rt. 30 at 4:20 p.m.

The defendant is an employee of Howard Sober Inc. a trucking concern with home offices in Lansing, Mich.

The fine amounted to 10 cents a pound for each pound over the legal limit.

Grimm told the court that he had received word from his employer to plead guilty. He said that he didn't know that his truck was overweight.

The Value of a Free Press to a Free Nation

By LOREATA ANN McDONALD
Senior, Dixon High School

Few people really stop to think what a free press means to them as individuals and to the country as a whole. Where else could employees and employers alike scan a few pages before starting to work and be brought up to date on world affairs in so short a time, or where could public opinion be shown to government officials so easily?

Nothing else brings so many facts, so easily, to so many people. One of the main connections between the people and a ruling government is an inquiring, alert press.

A country such as ours, free, democratic, and ruled by the people, could not exist without the right to have freedom of the press. The truth must be sought; rumors tracked down; details collected; and finally the revised, copy-read story printed and distributed to the ready and waiting public. The stories confirm readers' beliefs, form new views on old subjects and inform them about happenings they might not have heard as quickly had it not been for the press.

The endless thousands that the press employs continue searching out the truth in all affairs of public interest. After this truth has been brought before the public, by what better means than the free press can the public be stirred to correct corruption and other faulty parts in our great machine of free government? The press also reminds us of admirable, worthy happenings we may forget.

Our government is built of many small governments, the smallest and most important being the city officials. It is here and in the law bodies growing in size up to the national government that corruption must be destroyed. If officials in the small posts lay a good foundation it is hard for the rising structure to be faulty.

Our papers, much like our governments grow in size according to the population of the towns and cities; but the work of the paper, no matter what the size, is the same. It is to report the truth accurately and quickly to its waiting public.

The constitution gives us many rights that should be fought for by all, that they may never be lost. A free press is certainly important to founding and maintaining a free nation.

All of us should remember a free people have the right to print and read the truth. The freedom of press is not enough, however. The paper must be read and wisely acted upon after it has been printed and distributed. The readers must be alert and freedom loving citizens ready and willing to think over clearly the material presented them.

Yes, a free press is valuable to a free nation, but hand in hand with these freedoms go the free citizens who must be intelligent and ready to retain these freedoms that were fought for and won.

Announce Plans For Youth Center

Will Take Over Amvet Hall for Project; Seek Center Equipment

A youth-inspired plan for a youth center to be located on the third floor of the Speigle building, was announced today by Dixon high school students.

A youth committee revealed that it has obtained use of the hall formerly occupied by the Amvets for a center to replace one formerly operated in St. Luke's church basement, but since abandoned.

The committee also issued an appeal for equipment with which to furnish the hall for youth activities scheduled to begin early in March.

List Needs
A list of materials needed include folding chairs, coke bar stools, card tables, checkers and checkerboards, mirrors, chairs, a cash register and curtains.

Dixon residents who are interested in furthering the project and who are able to donate articles of this nature are asked to phone 2,6971 or 2-7031 anytime during the day.

It was indicated that the center was planned almost solely by the high school students although voluntary adult supervision will be solicited.

The youth committee has announced that it has scheduled a basketball game for March 9 as its first fund-raising program. The game, to feature the widely-known Harlem Globe Trotters, will be staged with the assistance of the Dixon Junior chamber of commerce.

Mrs. Roe Aids
Named to head the project, which is being aided by Mrs. Lucy Roe, Girls' athletic instructor at the high school, were Anne Swim and Gretchen Van Scoy.

The organization committee, headed by Pat Pieschel, is working on the rules and regulations which will govern the center. Other committee chairmen are Larry Lund, publicity; Alma Beery, program; and Marjorie Slothower, canteen service.

Jury Frees Grand Detour Man Of Reckless Homicide Charge

A Lee county circuit court jury of nine women and three men found Robert E. Brown, Grand Detour, not guilty Wednesday afternoon of reckless homicide.

Brown was indicted by the Grand Jury charged with causing the death of Ray C. Smith, Rt. 2, Oregon, in an automobile accident last Dec. 23, about 1½ miles northeast of Dixon on Rt. 2.

Jury Foreman John W. Ryan, of Harmon, announced the verdict after the jury had deliberated one hour and 45 minutes.

First Homicide Case
Brown was found not guilty in the first reckless homicide case to be tried before a jury in Lee county.

Smith was fatally injured when cars driven by Brown and Gene Burner, 16, of 1049 Highland av., collided.

State's Atty. James Bales attempted to prove to the jury that Brown not only caused Smith's death, but did so because of recklessness.

Defense Atty. Elwin Wadsworth refuted the prosecution case by showing that there was a possibility that Brown did not cause the accident and that Smith may have died from a heart attack and not from injuries received in the accident.

State's Attorney Bales had attempted to prove that Brown had been driving on the wrong side of the road at the time of the accident.

He also tried to show to the jury that although Smith had been doctoring a heart condition, he actually died from injuries.

Questions Accuracy
Wadsworth claimed that the testimony of Gene Burner and George Maves, a passenger in the Burner vehicle, may not have been accurate.

He attempted to show that the accident possibly could have been the fault of the Burner vehicle.

In introducing as evidence the left front wheel and tire from the Brown car, apparently blown from the force of the collision, he told the jury the accident couldn't have happened the way the two 16-year-old boys claimed.

Burner and Maves said that they

Storms Whirl Through Wheat Belt, Crop in Peril

By The Associated Press

New dust storms swirling across sections of Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas are cutting into the nation's winter wheat crop.

There was a cheerful note, however, in today's weather picture. Rain or snow was forecast for all three states.

But considerable moisture will be needed to give the soil the soaking it requires.

Strong winds Wednesday kicked up the third major dust storm in 10 days in the three states which supply most of the country's wheat.

In one Oklahoma county alone, it was estimated that damage amounted to about one-third of the crop. And last year's crop in that

North-Central Oklahoma county—Garfield—brought 18½ million dollars.

"Worst" Blow
County Agent J. B. Hurst, who made the estimate, said farmers there reported Wednesday's blow "the worst they've ever seen."

In Russell, in Central Kansas, County Agent Gale Mullen said most of that area's wheat crop is doomed unless moisture comes immediately.

A drought during the latter half of 1952 and insufficient moisture this winter left the soil dry and loose. The high winds can easily whip the soil from around young wheat plants, killing them.

The new dust storms brought memories once again of the black blizzards of the 1930s when wind erosion put thousands of farmers and ranchers out of business.

50 MPH Gusts
Gusts up to 50 miles an hour Wednesday sent up clouds of dust over Western Kansas. At Great Bend, visibility was cut to one-eighth of a mile at times.

In Oklahoma motorists at Enid in the central part of the state reported dust so thick they couldn't see their hood emblems.

Winds up to 45 miles an hour kicked up dust in the Panhandle and West Texas, but light rain fell in North and East Texas.

Southern California also suffered from winds. Gusts up to 82 miles an hour whipped up dust from parched fields that have been without rain for 29 days.

Leaders Get Lowdown on War Status

'We Are in Hell of A Fix,' Member Informs Newsmen

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Congressional leaders of both parties reviewed the global military situation with President Eisenhower today, and a House member said afterward it was a portrayal of "a grim picture."

The Republican and Democratic leaders of the Senate and House spent an hour and a half with Eisenhower at the White House session.

Bradley Talks
They were briefed on Korean War strategy and the military and diplomatic situations elsewhere by Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, and by Allen W. Dulles, chief of the Central Intelligence Agency.

A presidential assistant, Robert J. Cutler, also took part in the briefing. He is in charge of liaison with the National Security Council.

After the session, Rep. Halleck (R-Ind), House floor leader, told reporters:

"Everybody knows it is a grim picture."

Another Congress member who attended said no conclusions were reached at the session, "unless you might say we are in a hell of a fix." He asked not to be named.

Senate Republican Leader Taft brushed by reporters, declaring he had "nothing, nothing at all" to say.

"Lot of Facts"
Then he tossed back over his shoulder as he strode from the White House:

"It was a briefing on a lot of facts, military and diplomatic." Halleck called it "a very informative briefing," which he said covered the whole military outlook.

He added that it dealt with both the Korean, and the Indochina Wars, among other things.

When Halleck declared that everybody knows the world situation amounts to a grim picture, a reporter asked whether he meant: on a military or economic basis.

Halleck said he meant both and added that the situation represented "a burden on the economy."

Rep. Rayburn (D-Tex), the House minority leader, declined to comment on the conference.

"Anything to be said must be said by the White House," Rayburn declared.

Rep. McCormack (D-Mass), assistant minority leader, took the same position.

Sen. Bridges (R-NH), chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee, also described the briefing as "kind of grim."

Asked to explain, Bridges said he was referring to the general outlook.

Must "Face Up"

"It means we've got to face up to the grim facts of life," he added.

Bridges said he learned nothing particularly new at the session, but that the overall picture was nevertheless one of grimness.

He said the subjects discussed were largely of a security nature, and that for that reason he could

Dead Whale Causes Stink In Frisco
SAN FRANCISCO—A weighty problem—about three decaying tons of it—was washed into San Francisco Wednesday night. The problem was a dead whale the size of a small truck. It was first sighted—and smelled—rolling in the surf off the city's ocean beach.
"It's not in our district," the Taravel police station desk sergeant said. "Our district ends at the beach."
The Coast Guard said: "That's out of our jurisdiction. It's on the tidelands—and didn't the administration promise to give the tidelands back to the states?"
The State Department of Fish and Game: "We're interested only in live fish and game."
The city health department: "What problem?—maybe you've got the wrong number."

Cold Eskimo
OAKLAND, Calif. —A full-blooded Eskimo got so cold here he went to jail for a night recently just to get warmed up.
James Morgan, 24, who lives in Bethel, Alaska, 75 miles from the Bering Sea, came here looking for work. When night came he went to city hall seeking a blanket to keep warm, finally deciding on jail.
Back home he said the temperature drops to 63 below zero but people wear furs and parkas. He was surprised not to see a single parka here.
Eight U. S. Presidents were born in Virginia.

Scientists Tell of Two H-Bomb Blasts
WASHINGTON —Atomic scientists were quoted as telling a congressional committee Wednesday that last fall's tests at Eniwetok proving grounds included two "highly successful" thermonuclear explosions.
Thermonuclear is the word scientists use to describe the proposed hydrogen bomb, theoretically much more powerful than conventional atomic weapons.
Scientists of the Atomic Energy Commission met with the Senate-House Committee on Atomic Energy.
One member who asked not to be named said they reported being "well on the way" toward developing the hydrogen bomb. But he quoted them as saying some difficulties, primarily of size, remained to be worked out.

Coed at 48
BOSTON —The Massachusetts Supreme Court recently upheld a lower court ruling requiring a man to pay $15 a week to his estranged 48-year-old wife while she is a Boston University coed.
In 1948 a lower court decreed a $20 a week support payment with the provision that it might be reduced as soon as she was able to work. The court upheld continued payments because her schooling is designed to enable her to resume her teaching career.

Big Piano
NEW YORK —A one-ton grand piano that is 11 feet 8 inches long, said to be the world's largest, will be shown at this year's British Industries Fair. The low notes have strings twice the normal length, says the British Information Service here.
IGNORED PATENT
People considered the idea such a joke and impossibility that they ignored for 10 years the first patent granted for a tin can "to preserve animal, vegetable and perishable foods." The patent was granted in 1825.

Gravediggers Strike, 521 Bodies Wait
NEW YORK —A gravedigger's strike at 10 New York metropolitan area cemeteries has stranded 521 bodies.
At Evergreen cemetery, one of the three nonsectarian cemeteries affected, all vaults have been filled and 77 coffins have been stacked in tents, with the chill February winds their only refrigeration.
Many relatives have dug graves, then carried their loved ones to their last resting place because hearses drivers refused to cross cemetery picket lines.
About 200 grave diggers struck Jan. 7 in a demand for a $10-a-week wage increase plus other benefits. They made $69 a week. Cold weather has forestalled thus far any sanitary crisis.
Said Norman L. Jeffer, a Brooklyn director: "After funeral services, bodies are left with us, and now there are more bodies in many chapels than there is refrigerator space for them. Many undertakers have to alternate bodies in refrigerators—there are bodies all over the chapels. What's going to happen. I don't know."

Sues Bus Line For Toe Injury
LOS ANGELES —A mother is seeking $250,000 damages from Los Angeles Transit Lines because, she said, a 10-ton bus rested on her daughter's foot for 8 minutes after an accident.
In her suit filed Wednesday, Mrs. Laura Pogue alleged that the driver, Mrs. Forrestine G. Long, refused to move the bus because it was against company regulations.
Mrs. Pogue said the bus struck her daughter, Karen, 8, last Oct.

Defense Cut Of $5 Billion Proposed

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Defense Department has been told by a citizens' commission it could have five billion dollars—which might mean balancing the national budget.

The commission advised the huge outlays, whose outlays are more than half the government's total spending, to cut back 10 per cent across the board in men, money and material.

Some general ideas the commission offered for possible savings included extending the draft service term beyond 24 months, cutting into "plush and extravagance" it said "have crept into all our military services" and pushing unification to eliminate "waste, duplication and overstaffing."

David Sarnoff, chairman of the board of Radio Corporation of America, was named to head the commission when it was set up last fall. He made the report for the body Wednesday, giving it as his personal opinion, concurred in by all but one member, that half a million military and civilian employees could be dropped gradually.

New Bills Would Hike Watch Tariff

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Bills were introduced in both houses of Congress Wednesday to increase the tariff on imported watch movements. The legislation would enforce the tariff rates recommended last year by the Tariff Commission but rejected by ex-President Truman.

Sen. Butler and Rep. Curtis both (R-Neb) introduced the bills. Walter Cenerazzo, president of the American Watchmakers' Union (Independent), commented that the domestic watch industry "faces extinction and this country the loss of an all-important defense arm" unless it is given the proposed protection.

Inspector Held For Murder as Gun Is Checked

CHICAGO — (AP) — Police today questioned a 26 year old mail train inspector after a gun found in his possession last week was identified as that used in the March 17, 1952, slaying of a suburban Phoenix tavern owner.

Lyle J. Apker was arrested Wednesday night, a day after his release on bond from the Kankakee, Ill., city jail. Acting Police Capt. William Hennessy said Apker was arrested at Kankakee Feb. 12 after posing as a Chicago policeman, entering a Kankakee home and frightening two children by brandishing a pistol.

Hennessy said the police crime laboratory reported Apker's gun fired the bullet which killed Adolph Krajewski, 58, in his Phoenix tavern 11 months ago.

Apker denied killing Krajewski and told police he bought the gun from a gunsmith last Spring.

Cap Well

HOBBS, N. M. (AP)—A wild gas well near here was capped Wednesday after 14 days of blasting forth a stream of highly inflammable natural gas.

Cost of the operation in capping the well was estimated at $300,000. Four giant pumps choked off the 130 million cubic feet daily stream of gas with heavy drilling mud.

CONSTIPATION NOW CORRECTED SAFELY, IN TWO TO FIVE DAYS

Tasteless, Jelly-Forming Tablet Stops "Cathartic Habit" Develops Natural Regularity Without Discomfort

Now wonder-working substance is proved, by hundreds of tests, to be one of the great achievements of medical science—completely solves age-old health problem. Noted doctors and medical journals praise new jelly-forming material. Trials with hundreds of stubborn cases conclusively prove it to be the safest, surest way to correct the wide-spread torment of constipation.

Years of Research Rewarded
The medical profession has long recognized the need for a safe "corrective type" product that could be depended upon to curb the wide use of rapid acting, habit-forming laxatives, vitamin-robbing oils, irritating salts and indigestible fibrous-type bulk-laxatives that can cause impaction. The curse of repeated "purging" can now be ended forever. This truly remarkable new tablet is now available at drug stores everywhere under the name INGEREL. INGEREL Acts—The Right Way INGEREL acts in the colon, by forming a soothing jelly like solution that promotes healthy "natural" elimination without a trace of discomfort or embarrassment. INGEREL is completely safe, thoroughly dependable, for young or aged. Ask for INGEREL for the most satisfactory relief you've ever known. Regain care-free days of healthy regularity with INGEREL. If your local druggist is out of INGEREL Tablets, he will be pleased to order them for you.

Eisenhower Believes in Going to Root of Inflation Problem

With all wage controls and many price curbs removed, President Eisenhower has begun what he hopes will be an orderly transition to a freer national economy. He believes the balance of natural market forces is sufficiently good to prevent any strong new inflationary currents.

The only issue now is whether congress will simply let the outmoded controls law die April 30, or follow the suggested lead of Senate Banking Committee Chairman Capehart and vote standby controls for the president to have in an emergency.

Mr. Eisenhower didn't request such authority. He thinks he can meet an emergency even if he must seek a new controls law from scratch. Capehart says congress can't produce one in less than three months and it takes another four to get controls working.

Congress must decide where the greater wisdom lies.

The president acted because he believes direct controls should apply only in all-out war, not in peace or the semi-war we have now.

This feeling is founded on two factors. One is his conviction that "the character of our people resists artificial and arbitrary controls of any kind." The other is his belief that direct controls deal with the symptoms rather than the causes of inflation, and hence are only partially effective.

He is on pretty sound ground in both cases. Americans dislike controls heartily, and submit to them willingly only when the need for sacrifice is abundantly clear.

The record of the war and postwar years, as told by economists, supports the argument that direct controls don't go to the root of the matter. They don't cure inflation; they merely defer its effects until a later date.

What really fuels the inflationary engine is credit expansion and any other device of monetary policy which adds to the general money supply. Most economists agree that it is the vastly increased volume of money in circulation—set against periodic shortages of goods—that has produced the truly powerful inflationary pressures.

Mr. Eisenhower believes with them that to control inflation you must have federal credit and monetary policies which keep the money supply in check and do not allow it to outdistance the available supply of goods.

This is not a field that the average citizen finds romantic or exciting or easily understandable. It involves such things as the size of the national debt, the interest rate on government bonds, the monetary reserve requirements fixed by the federal reserve banking system.

Labor leaders and other self-appointed champions of the consumer seem to put greater store by the more obvious direct price and wage controls. But it is the credit and money matters which are basic. And insofar as the president can fashion and enforce really sound policies in this field he will be grappling with the real heart of the inflation problem.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Keep Mind on Game Is Sound Advice

By OSWALD JACOBY

What does an expert think about when he goes into a long huddle? Does he just sit at the table and wonder what he would like to eat for breakfast the next morning, or does he really apply himself to the problem at hand?

I cannot deny that some experts go wool-gathering at the bridge table. In general, however, the expert does keep his mind on his business and does a good deal of his reasoning along the lines of "if he hadda, he woulda." Let's see how this works out in the hand shown today.

West opened a low heart, and declarer played low from dummy, not knowing that East had a singleton king. East won with the king of hearts and shifted to the king of diamonds, whereupon South took the ace of diamonds and returned the suit to force out East's queen.

East plugged away at diamonds, returning the nine. South let the nine of diamonds hold, but took the next trick with dummy's jack of diamonds. Declarer's next step was to lead the four of spades from dummy and finesse the six from his own hand, ducking the trick to West.

This gave the enemy their fourth defensive trick, after which South needed the rest of the tricks to make his contract.

West returned another heart, and declarer cashed in on the ace and queen of hearts, the ace of clubs, the jack of hearts, and the king of spades.

The queen of spades dropped on declarer's king, and declarer next led a spade, towards the dummy and wondered whether to finesse the ten or to go up with dummy's ace of spades. East had very cleverly played the jack and the king of clubs, saving the ten of clubs.

East was known to have one diamond, and the idea was to make it seem that he had no more clubs in order that South would believe that East still had the jack of spades.

South recognized the possibility that East's unknown card was the jack of spades, and he thought about it. If East's unknown card happened to be a club, all of East's plays were deceptive, but quite logical.

If East's unknown card happens to be the jack of spades, however, this meant that East, holding Q-J-5 of spades, had played the five of spades from his hand when the suit was first led from the dummy.

Since this play was quite illogical, South decided that East could not possibly have held this combination of cards. On the basis of this reasoning he finessed dummy's ten of spades and made his game contract.

In Hollywood

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff
Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — Behind the Screen: What's the shape of 3-D things to come?

I'm putting "Bwana Devil," the first feature-length "depthy" to hit the box-office jackpot, in the experimental class now that I've seen Paravision.

Hailed by technicians as the first true three-dimensional film process, it's Paramount's entry in Hollywood's big 3-D race to win back movie fans gone home to TV.

And, I can report, Paravision is THE big threat to television.

There's no eye strain, distortion or polaroid squint. The scenes are sharp, the color perfect and the depth is fantastic.

The studio is shooting a Technicolor film titled "Sangaree" with Arlene Dahl and Fernando Lamas in the new 3-D process and, judging from the scenes I saw from behind my polaroid glasses, the picture will make Paramount the Ft. Knox of the movie industry.

Arlene and Fernando are "alive," the sets real. And special tricks will have a fiery torch in your lap and a man tossed out into the theater.

Farciot Edouart, Paramount's technical wizard, is the gent behind Paramount's 3-D camera, which he first designed 17 years ago. "But no one seemed interested in it," he told me, "until 'Bwana Devil' made more money in its third week than 'The Greatest Show on Earth' made in its first week. Then I couldn't get the camera rolled up fast enough."

Will movie-goers become accustomed to polaroid glasses at the theaters?

William Pine, co-producer of the film with Bill Thomas, answered that one with:

"When sound first came in Hollywood was worried about whether movie-goers would resent noise in the theater after years of peaceful silence."

TALK ABOUT STARS

Lizabeth Scott's pals are worried about her jumpy nerves and her yen for seclusion. . . . Van Johnson's contract with MGM doesn't expire until the year's end, but he will obtain his release from the studio before that time. . . . It's five dimensions of out-of-this-world entertainment with Kay Thompson and the Williams Brothers at the Mocambo. . . . Joan Crawford's eyes are popping. She was offered $25,000 for a week's stint at a hotel in Las Vegas. . . . Betty Grable is going pool-pool to revived rumors that she wants OUT of the cast on account of Marilyn Monroe in "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Knowing It." It was Marilyn who stole the show at the Photoplay Gold Medal Awards dinner.

Faith Domergue, about meeting bullfighter Mario Cabre in Spain: "He was formal, but very charming. But nary a poem did I inspire. After all, I'm a married woman."

Stories about Ginger Rogers' marriage to Jacques Bergerac referred to him as wealthy. But now the buzz is that he was working as a desk clerk at the George V. Hotel in Paris when they met.

GOLF'S MATCHLESS WIT

Jerry Lewis told the mob watching him tee off in that Southern California PGA-sponsored match with Dean Martin, Crosby and Hope:

"Watch carefully now. At no time do my feet leave my body."

Charles Lawton is poised for a trip to England to star in the film version of "The Hanging Judge" for Producer Michael Powell.

Susan Zanuck, daughter of Darryl Zanuck, will make her nightclub debut with Gregory Ratoff and Arthur Blake in Las Vegas on March 19. . . . Lex Barker and Warners couldn't get together on the big contract that was hanging fire.

Producer Edward Small now has the rights to the life story of Barney Ross and is making a strong pitch to the Johnston office to permit key scenes about drug addiction. So far, it's a NO answer on the taboo subject.

Buddy Ebsen, about the screen's new faces:

"Many of them lose golden opportunities to grow mature solely because they press for more and more money, instead of for more and more experience to befit them for more money."

Clubs 9-6-2. What do you do?

A—Bid two hearts. You have a minimum opening bid with 13 points in high cards and 1 point for the doubleton. Your partner's response is not forcing since he passed originally, but you are dissatisfied with spades. Hence you rebid your strong suit.

TODAY'S QUESTION

The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spades 9-3, Hearts K-Q-J-7-5, Diamonds 6-2, Clubs A-K-8-4. What do you do?

WESTBROOK PEGLER

Pegler Reveals a Series of "Weird Conspiracies" Involving Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1949, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Having laid the foundation of the Drew Pearson expose, I shall now develop the features of a series of weird conspiracies. The scenario includes a fantastic "anti-trust" suit against Senator Pat McCarran, of Nevada, augmented by a publicity and propaganda campaign to sway the court. In this suit, Pearson's lawyer, William A. Roberts, represents an ex-convict from Brooklyn who landed in Nevada as press agent for the Flamingo hotel and gambling house operated by the notorious Bugsy Siegal underworld mob. Pearson's story of this McCarran lawsuit concealed the fact that the plaintiff was an ex-convict and an agent of the Siegal mob. The forces which have been smearing McCarran are, mainly, Communists and friends of Communists.

Pearson regularly employed two Communists as "leg-men." A third "leg man," Jack Anderson, who figures prominently in the case, latched onto the GI paper "China Lantern" in China just after the war. General Al Wedemeyer, then the China theatre commander, says this paper fomented insubordination to the verge of mutiny in line with the Communist scheme to disrupt the American fighting forces and get them out of Europe and China.

I come now to the case of a Chinese air force general named Pang Tsu Mow, who is charged with absconding from Washington to Mexico with about $7,000,000. The government of the Republic of China lays claim to this money, much of which Mow has sequestered in Switzerland. Pearson put his lawyer, Roberts, in touch with the fugitive general. Roberts is also Pearson's lawyer in another queer suit against Senator Joe McCarthy, the Washington Times-Herald, Fulton Lewis, Westbrook Pegler and others. The purpose seems to me to be to head off the expose of Pearson's lies and nefarious operations.

Last Dec. 2, in Washington, a subcommittee of the judiciary committee of the Senate took sworn testimony by John G. Broady, a New York lawyer representing the Republic of China in the effort to recover the money from General Mow.

Senator Arthur V. Watkins of Utah, presided.

Edward R. Duffy, investigator for the committee, used the word "embezzled" in referring to this money.

Broady said he had gone to Mexico in this quest and had met Felix Pichardo Estrada, an assistant attorney general of the Republic of Mexico, and a number of federal police.

"Mow," Broady said, "was then arrested . . . and at the request of the procurator general's office, Dr. Liang Chien Cha, vice-minister of justice of the Republic of China, and myself went to the house which Mow occupied . . . to act as interpreters and translators in going over the documents found . . . in Mow's house."

Mow had a white American girl with him as companion.

In response to questions, Mr. Broady said, "Documents seized in Mow's residence on the day of his arrest showed that he had deposited $2,000,000 of Chinese government funds under his own name in the Chemical Bank and Trust Co., Rockefeller Center Branch, New York."

Broady said Mow asked him to "get in touch by telephone with his own attorney, William A. Roberts, in Washington, D. C."

Broady said: "I asked Mow whether Roberts had been paid and whether Roberts would be willing to render further services to Mow without an additional fee. . . . Mow then told me that . . . he had paid Roberts and his firm several hundred thousand dollars. . . . I asked Mow how this money was paid. Mow stated in substance that the money had been paid to Roberts partially in currency, partially by drafts, and that, among other things, he, Mow, had also given Roberts one $100,000 U. S. Treasury bearer bill. I asked Mow what funds he had used to buy this U. S. Treasury bearer bill that he gave to

More Coronation Participation Is Requested

SINGAPORE — (AP)—The Bishop of Singapore, Rt. Rev. H. W. Baines, states that bishops, statesman and commanders from all over the Commonwealth should be asked to help at the Coronation service of Queen Elizabeth II in June.

Writing in the latest issue of the parish magazine, Courier, Rev. Baines said: "Bishops from the Queen's overseas realms and statesmen or commanders from the nations and communities of the Commonwealth should be invited to assist in the administration of the oath to the Queen and in placing the imperial state crown upon her head."

Gift Picture

TAIPEH, Formosa — (AP)—An autographed group picture of the justices of the U. S. Supreme Court was presented recently to Dr. Wang Chung-hui, chief of the Chinese Nationalist judicial council. The gift was the result of a luncheon promise made by U. S. Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas during his visit here last September.

THE DOCTOR SAYS:

Most Epileptics Do Not Suffer Serious Difficulty

There are said to be nearly 800,000 people in the United States who suffer or have suffered epileptic seizures. Thirty years ago most of them would have become burdens on society; today more than three-fourths of them can play, work and live happily without serious difficulty.

Most cases of epilepsy begin before the age of 20. Although it is true that this disease has a liking for, and usually starts, in youth, it is no respecter of sex, race, creed or color.

About one person in every 200 is afflicted, but nearly one person in 10 has some abnormal electric brain waves which suggest that they too have a tendency toward epilepsy even if they never show recognizable signs.

Patients with a family history of epilepsy are potential carriers of the disease, but some patients who have convulsions do not show any signs of the family pattern. An unfavorable ancestry seems to cause children to react to physical and perhaps mental injury with convulsions.

Patients with a family history of epilepsy and early beginnings of the disease react better to some drugs than those with other forms of convulsions.

The actual convulsion of severe epilepsy is a frightening thing to see. It may occur at night, however, and without any knowledge on the part of the victim. When this happens, other signs are likely to be present so that some suspicion is raised and then proper steps can be taken to make a diagnosis.

Much research has been done on epilepsy and other forms of convulsions in recent years. This has brought forward several new drugs which are useful for many patients.

It is not always possible to pick the right drug at first, however, and it is said that an average of six months is required to select the best anti-convulsant preparation and the right dose.

Those afflicted with epilepsy should not engage in dangerous occupations, particularly with machines, but neither should they be denied employment or activity which they can readily do. Employers are rapidly learning that many victims of epilepsy can be employed entirely satisfactorily.

and the blanket stigma too often attached to this disease should be removed promptly.

Prayer for TODAY

O God, whose dearly beloved Son trod the dark paths of life we all must tread, help us to be confident amid confusion, calm amid grief, hopeful amid discouragement, steadfast amid trouble, victorious amid defeat. Grant that the vision of him who through suffering was made perfect may inspire our faltering steps to triumph even in death; through Christ our Lord. Amen.

—Edward T. Horn, Philadelphia, Pa., minister, Trinity Lutheran church.

Salvage Project

MANILA (AP)—A Japanese salvage survey mission has arrived to determine whether vessels sunk in Manila Bay during World War II should be refloated, dismantled or abandoned.

The Japanese expect to find out how many of the 265 vessels totaling 561,157 tons can be salvaged and turned over to the Philippines as reparations through services.

The Japanese government has offered to pay reparations through services, instead of cash or kind, to the Philippines in compensation for war damage.

Truman Unable to Answer White House Payroll Query

PHILADELPHIA —(AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman, with pen in hand and tongue in cheek, said today he isn't sure whether he got paid for a full day last Jan. 20—when he turned over his office at noon to President Eisenhower.

The "Philadelphia Lawyer," a Philadelphia Bulletin columnist whose real name is cloaked in anonymity, recently received a letter in which "Constant Reader" wrote:

"According to the Constitution, President Truman's term ended at noon on Jan. 20 and he went off the U. S. payroll then. President Eisenhower's term commenced in the middle of the day and he went on the payroll as soon as he took the oath of office.

"With the President's salary at $100,000 a year, a day's pay or even a half day's pay, amounts to a considerable sum. Now, which one of the two got paid for Jan. 20, or were both paid for the day? Or did Truman get paid for half the day and Eisenhower for the other half?"

In today's column, the Philadelphia Lawyer wrote that the president of the U. S. is paid at the daily rate of $274—before taxes, of course—so that if either the outgoing Chief Executive or his successor was paid for the full day, he was overcompensated in the amount of $137.

The Bulletin columnist decided there were only two men completely competent to provide the answer. One, he realized, was far too busy taking up the reins of government, so he wrote to the "First Citizen of Independence, Mo." and put the problem squarely in his lap.

Harry Writes
In due course, there arrived a letter dated Feb. 11 and bearing this letterhead:
"Harry S. Truman, Federal Reserve Bank Building, Kansas City 6, Missouri."

"Dear Philadelphia lawyer," Mr. Truman wrote:

"In reply to yours of January

twenty-eighth, I am not able to answer your question.

"It looks to me like a 'Philadelphia lawyer' ought to be able to figure it out. It is more than I can do because I have never had an occasion to do it. I merely accepted the check the secretary of the Treasury sent me, hoping the government would remain solvent long enough for me to cash it.

"Sincerely yours,
"Harry S. Truman."

Mary Jackson Bride of Chicago Man Saturday

Holy Trinity church, Chicago, was the setting for the pretty Valentine's day wedding of Miss Mary Catherine Jackson, daughter of Mrs. Mary Jackson, Harmon, and James Anthony Walsh. The bridegroom is the son of James Walsh, Chicago. Rev. R. L. Riorden officiated at the double ring ceremony and nuptial high mass. White snapdragons and calla lilies decorated the church altars for the morning ceremony.

Given in marriage by her brother, John Jackson, Amboy, the pretty bride wore a two piece dress of pink wool. Her accessories were gray and her flowers, a white orchid. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls and she carried a pearl rosary.

As matron of honor, Mrs. John Jackson, Amboy, sister-in-law of the bride, donned a grey suit. Her accessories matched her suit and she wore red camellias.

John Walsh, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, served as best man.

For the ceremony Mrs. Jackson selected a navy suit with navy and white accessories. The bridegroom's aunt, Mrs. Coughlin, wore a navy sheer dress with matching accessories. They both wore corsages of white camellias.

Breakfast at Hotel

A wedding breakfast was served to the immediate relatives at the Gremere Hotel. A three tiered wedding cake centered the table that was decorated with red roses.

A graduate of Amboy high school with the class of 1958 the bride also graduated from St. Anthony school of Nursing, Rockford, in 1951. She was employed at St. Anthony's and since last May has worked at Cook County hospital, Chicago.

The bridegroom was graduated from LaSalle high school, Chicago, and DePaul university, Chicago, served four years in the U. S. navy. He is now employed as a

Ladies of GAR Honor Birthday of Dixon Circle

Dixon Circle No. 73 Ladies of the GAR met Monday noon at the home of Mrs. Robert Ayers with a 12:30 o'clock scramble dinner to celebrate the 46th anniversary of the Dixon circle.

Two three tiered silver candelabra at either end of the table held candles in red, white and blue and the centerpiece was a decorated birthday cake. White napkins edged in red, white and blue and having emblems of Washington and Lincoln were at each place. Mrs. Jack Kennaugh, circle president, baked the cake.

A short program was presented consisting of: a reading, "Young Lincoln," Mrs. Sadie Schwab; singing of George Washington, Mrs. William Whitebread and history of the Dixon GAR, Mrs. Kennaugh. Each past president was asked to give the highlights of her year or years of holding office.

Charter Member Mrs. Eleanor Coover, only charter member of the Dixon circle, was present.

Mrs. Elita Baker reported having attended the placing of a wreath on Lincoln's tomb at Lincoln State Drive, Feb. 12.

The next meeting, Monday, March 2, will be with a 12:30 o'clock scramble dinner at the home of Mrs. Whitebread.

Engaged

MRS. AND MRS. JESSE FORD-HAM, 515 West Seventh st., announce the engagement of their youngest daughter, Louise, to Clarence Odell Frailey, Dixon, son of Clarence Frailey, Shawneetown, Ill. Louise is employed at the Freeman Shoe Corp. and her fiancé is an employee of Lawton Brothers Dairy. An early summer wedding is planned.

Relatives Honor Ray A. Millers On Anniversary

About 40 relatives helped Mr. and Mrs. Ray A. Miller celebrate their 10th wedding anniversary recently. Mr. and Mrs. Miller live at 1014 Johnson st.

Many gifts were received by the honorees as well as phone messages and cards from friends.

The lace covered table was lighted with red candles in crystal holders and centered with a four tiered cake with valentine decorations. Gifts of spring flowers were used in the rooms.

Mrs. John McClannahan, a cousin, cut and served the cake. Mrs. Bert Kested and Mrs. J. H. Shuck, aunts of Mrs. Miller, assisted with the serving. Mrs. Kested poured and Mrs. Shuck served the punch. Mrs. Howard Emmert, another aunt, had charge of the gifts.

The evening was spent visiting and reminiscing. Mr. and Mrs. Homer Erzinger, on vacation, were unable to attend.

1953 Officers Of Wa-Tan-Ye Are Installed

Installation of new officers was the highlight at the meeting of the Wa-Tan-Ye club Wednesday evening. The following new officers and board members were installed: president, Mrs. Elizabeth Willcox; vice president, Miss Mary Willford; secretary, Miss Frances Patrick; treasurer, Mrs. Mildred Ryan and board members, Mrs. Ray Clumie, Mrs. Harold Phillips and Miss Gertrude Wilhelm.

Retiring president, Mrs. Howard Hall, in her report, thanked the officers and committee chairmen for the assistance they had given her during the year.

Miss Ethel Crawford, out-going secretary, listed in her yearly report the service projects which had been carried on by the club during the year. The Block of Dimes sponsored by the club netted a total of $237.51 for the polio drive. Gifts were sent to patients at the Lee County Nursing Home during the year, with special emphasis being made during holidays. Members canvassed for the Red Cross drive. The club contributed to the following: Girl Scouts (by sponsoring a camper-ship) Tuberculosis Association, Yanks Who Gave and the Dixon Council of Christian Education. The club also contributed toward medical care for a school child.

Honor Mrs. Reed

Special recognition was given Mrs. Robert Reed, who attended every meeting during the club year. Only two meetings were missed by Mrs. Dorrance Thompson, Mrs. Donald McQueen and Misses Gertrude Wilhelm, and Ethel Crawford.

A valentine gift exchange followed the business meeting. Tables were cleverly decorated with valentine colors. Hostesses for the evening were Misses Mary Willford, Gertrude Wilhelm, and Frances Patrick.

The new president, Mrs. Wilcox announced the next meeting of the club would be a dinner meeting at the Nachusa Hotel, March 4.

Study Course

The second session of the study course on "Africa" will be held at 7:30 p. m. Friday, Feb. 20, at the Methodist church. Two movies on Africa will be shown and there will be a panel discussion on the second chapter, African Family Life of the book, "African Heritage."

"It Takes Two" Opens Tonight

DIRECTORS OF "IT TAKES TWO," this year's production by the "Dixonaires," will see their months and weeks of planning and work become a realization when the curtain opens at 8 o'clock tonight. Also being presented Friday evening, the original musical fantasy, is staged at the Dixon high school auditorium with proceeds going to the North Central Illinois Association for the Aid of Retarded Children, Inc. Directors pictured above, from left to right, Betty Peckham, Patsy Oakes, Jerry Greasby, Mildred Coakley, Cal Auld and Joan Greasby. Thelton Myers was absent when the picture was taken.

Many to Attend Dixonaires Show at Dixon High School

Dixonaires' original musical fantasy, "It Takes Two," will be presented in the Dixon high school auditorium tonight and Friday, Feb. 19 and 20.

Thelton Myers, instrumental music teacher in the elementary schools of Dixon, has written the orchestral arrangements for six of the original musical numbers appearing in "It Takes Two." A graduate of Dixon high school and Northern Illinois State Teachers college, DeKalb, Thelton is an experienced performer, playing flute, saxophone and clarinet. He traveled through the Midwest for a year with a dance orchestra, playing lead saxophone and clarinet. For many years he has directed a dance orchestra in and around Dixon. Thelton directed the Kampus Kapers orchestra which played his overture and orchestration in last year's Dixonaires production.

Local musicians playing in this year's show will be Harold Spencer, J. Corbus Hoffman, Jim Campbell and Thelton Myers, saxophones; Jim Brady, drums; Dick Worley and Harold France, trumpets; Robert L'Heureux, trombone; Carmen Cornetti, base, and Ray Leake, piano.

Dance sequences have been originated especially for the music in "It Takes Two" by dance instructor and choreographer, Mrs. Betty Peckham. She studied terpsichorean art, drama, music and child and adult psychology at the University of Wisconsin in Madison, and received her dance training from Leo Kohl, president of the Dance Masters Association of the World.

Mrs. Peckham has taught all the dances to the cast and every member of the cast has a part in the dances. The curtain will open on Mrs. George Hooper, the Misses Delores Newman, Neva Heckman, Priscilla Carpenter, Sylvia Nelles and Barbara Cleary as they dance a peppy number with Mickey James, Lee Bevilacqua and Dick Gordon.

Civic Music Workers Plan Coming Week

Doorbell and phone ringing time has come again for those working on the Dixon Civic Music pre-membership week campaign. This week is traditionally set aside by the Civic Music association to allow present members to renew their subscriptions to the concert series. Auditorium capacity is limited, therefore current memberships are honored before the general public is admitted.

Headquarters, located downstairs from Vaile's Clothing store, reports many renewals and many more in the mails. Assisting in the coming campaign is Margaret Mary Musso, who has been with the West Coast division for the past 10 years.

Because Civic Music is a non-profit organization it operates on whatever budget is raised from memberships each year and is therefore unable to choose the artists before returns are made. After the intensive campaign is closed yearly operating expenses are set aside and the remainder is used to pay artists for the coming season. A tabulation is made on the ballot returns and a local talent committee selects the five attractions to appear on the next series.

Par preparatory week, during which the mechanics of the campaign are set up, will end this Saturday. Next week, Feb. 23 to 28, membership will be open to the general public.

Chairman of the campaign is Rev. Vernon L. S. Jones, who announces the following division chairmen, Mrs. J. L. Tavenner, Mrs. John Tagge, Mrs. Wayne Prince, Miss Naomi Woll, Mrs. Earl Bastian, Mrs. George Cooper, Mrs. Sidney Sinow, Miss Alice Meppin, Miss Martha Meppin and Mrs. John Roe. Mrs. Harry Weiman is headquarters chairman; Mrs. Lyle Prescott is dinner chairman and is assisted by Mrs. John Roe; publicity is being handled by Mrs. Byron Chasteen and the new prospect list is being compiled by Miss Earl Bastian.

Details concerning the kick-off dinner, which is scheduled for Monday, Feb. 23, at Loveland Community House, will be announced later.

LOVELAND PTA

Loveland PTA will meet at 7:30 p. m. today, Feb. 19, at the school. The boy and girl scouts will have charge of the program. Refreshments will be served.

Clever and colorful routines will be done by Mrs. Lynn Whittenbaugh, Mrs. Dick Worley and Mickey James.

High-lighting the show is a dream sequence which is entirely music and dancing and features Mrs. Thelton Myers as the beautiful dreamer, with Mrs. George Hooper, the Misses Neva Heckman, Nancy Leer, Barbara Cleary, Sylvia Nelles, Dick Barton, Dick Gordon, Lee Bevilacqua, Russell Sawyer, Jack Gannon and George Hooper.

Ione Conrad and Chana Man Wed At Ashton Church

When Miss Ione Conrad, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Conrad, Rt. 3, Rochelle, and Howard McAnly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold McAnly, Chana, were wed, baskets of white gladioli, candelabra and palms decorated St. John's Lutheran church, Ashton. Rev. Orville Kalwark officiated at the 8 p. m. double ring ceremony Feb. 14.

Miss Mable Oakland, Rochelle, was organist and Roe Grover, Chana, soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was charming in a gown of tulle over satin. Chantilly lace etched on billows of nylon tulle over glowing white satin designed the gown that was made with princess lines, tiny waist and long tapered sleeves. The floor length gown was fashioned with a Cathedral train. The bride's veil of lace and nylon tulle was held in place by a satin cap. Her jewelry was a pearl choker and earrings, a gift from the bridegroom, and she carried a bouquet of stephanotis and white carnations centered with a white orchid.

Bride's Attendants

Mrs. Robert Hodges, Dixon, was matron of honor and the bridesmaids were: Misses Shirley Gittleman and Louise Caron and Mrs. Alvin Conrad, Rochelle. They all wore matching gowns of white nylon net over tulle with rhinestone and pearl trim on the bodices. They wore white tulle stoles and red rose veils and carried heart shaped bouquets of red and white carnations. Their rhinestone earrings, were gifts from the bride.

Robert Hodges, Dixon, served as best man and ushers were: Gene Krug and Ronald Anders, Ashton, and Alvin Conrad, Rochelle. The men of the wedding party were in formal attire.

As ring bearer, Gary Conrad, wore a tuxedo of navy and carried the rings on a heart shaped pillow. Flower girls, Joyce Hodges and Janet Weinreich, wore white frocks identical to the bride's other attendants. Their headpieces were of red carnations and they carried baskets of red rose petals.

The bride's mother wore a navy blue dress with matching accessories and the bridegroom's mother also donned navy with navy accessories. They wore corsages of white roses.

Reception for 300

A reception for 300 guests was held immediately following the ceremony in the church parlors. Assisting at the reception were: Mrs. Raymond Plantz, Rochelle, at the coffee service; Miss Norma Jean Grover, Chana, punch; and Mrs. Roy Landaker, Rochelle, served the five tiered wedding cake. Mrs. Doyle Stroud, Rochelle, had charge of the guest book and Mrs. Wayne Friested and Erma Roop, Rochelle, and Mrs. Ronald Anders, Ashton, the gifts.

When the newlyweds departed for a wedding trip to the southern states, the bride donned a suit of blue with navy accessories. Her lace blue metallic hat had pearl and silver trim. She wore the orchid from her bridal bouquet. Upon returning they will reside in Rochelle.

A graduate of Rochelle high school with the class of 1952, the bride is employed at Whitson's Dry Goods store, Rochelle. The bridegroom, who graduated from Ashton Community high school in 1952, is employed with the Herman Kunde Oil Co., Rochelle.

Highland Avenue Club Has Party

Mrs. Fred Leeper invited members of the Highland Avenue club to her home Monday evening. Games were played with prizes going to Mrs. Adel Keyser, Mrs. Marie Petit and Mrs. J. B. Conroy.

A lunch was served at the close of the evening.

Mrs. Jay W. Curran will be hostess when the group meets again March 30.

MISS SANDRA SHARP, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Amos Sharp, 817 North Brinton av., who will be married Sunday, Feb. 22, at the First Methodist church, Dixon, to Bert Lee Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jones, Rock Falls. The bridegroom is an electrician's mate in the navy on the USS Platte and is based at Long Beach, Calif. Miss Sharp is a senior at Dixon high school.

Miss Miller of Polo, Willard Buntjer Wed

POLO—Saturday morning, Feb. 14, at St. Mary's church, Polo, occurred the marriage of Miss Joan Louise Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Miller, Polo and Willard Buntjer, Forrester, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Ben Buntjer. The nuptial mass was read at 9:30 a.m. by Rev. James Burke, in the presence of the immediate families and a few friends.

Miss Honora B. Kramer played a group of nuptial selections and during the mass played the "Ave Maria."

The bride wore a grey and pink suit with grey accessories and her corsage was pink carnations. Her sister Carol, as bridesmaid, wore an aqua suit with brown accessories. Her corsage was pink carnations.

Elmer Buss, Forrester, served as best man.

Dinner In Freeport

Following the ceremony a dinner was served at the Senate Hotel, Freeport.

The new Mrs. Buntjer is Deputy Circuit Clerk at Freeport and the bridegroom is engaged in farming. Following a honeymoon to be spent in the south Mr. and Mrs. Buntjer will be at home on a farm near Forrester.

Two Auto-Train Accidents Reported to Dixon Police

Two auto-train collisions reported to Dixon police topped a series of automobile accidents in the city since Tuesday.

A car driven by Robert Seybert, 27, of 1245 N. Galena av., collided at 1 a. m. today with the engine of an Illinois Central freight train at the Seventh street crossing.

Police said that Seybert was driving west on Seventh street while the freight train was heading south on the Illinois Central tracks when they collided.

Seybert was shaken up and received lacerations about the face, according to Dixon Police Officers Woodyatt and Van Meter, who investigated the accident. He was released this morning from the KSB hospital after treatment.

Disagree on Lights
Seybert told police that the warning lights at the crossing weren't working.

Train fireman Louis Broch, Freeport, who was at his post at the left side of the engine cab, claimed that the lights were in operation, police said.

Seybert's car hit the overflow pipe just behind the engine's left rear driver, police added.

According to Woodyatt and Van Meter, the fireman said it appeared to him that the car was trying to beat the engine to the crossing. Train Engineer William Green, Freeport, and R. E. Sieveking, conductor, were witnesses to the accident.

Second Collision
Another car-train collision reported yesterday to police happened Tuesday evening when Dr. J. B. Werren, 71, Dixon, collided with a parked railway car on River street. The accident happened as Werren was driving west on River street and a Northwestern railroad switch train was stopped near the Dixon fruit company, police reported.

Werren claimed that he was blinded by the light from the train and put on the brakes, causing the car to slide into a coal car, according to police.

No one was injured in the collision. There was considerable damage to the vehicle.

Automobiles driven by Mrs. Mary Cox, 35, of 514 W. Sixth st., and Philip Lennon, 15, Plum Hollow rd., collided at 7:55 a. m. today at Brinton avenue and Chamberlin street, causing considerable damage to both cars.

Police said that the Lennon vehicle was going north on Brinton avenue when the driver attempted to make a left turn on to Chamberlin street. The Cox car, also heading north on Chamberlin, started to pass Lennon at the intersection and collided with the Lennon automobile.

No one was injured. Dixon Police Officers Smallwood and Tuttle gave passing at an intersection as the contributing cause of the accident.

Other Accidents
An accident at 11:45 a. m. Wednesday involved the parked car of Ross B. Willett, 34, of 711 N. Ottawa av., and a car driven by John Baker, 18, of 921 Logan av., at Fourth street and Lincoln avenue.

According to Dixon Police Officer Kelchner, who investigated, Baker stopped for a stop sign at Fourth street and Lincoln avenue. When he pulled away and started east on Fourth street, the car skidded into Willett's car. No one was injured.

Lee County Sheriff Charles Redebaugh reported an accident a half mile out of Dixon last night on the Rock Island road where a car driven by James Nuttall, Sterling, developed steering trouble and scraped against a guard rail.

Redebaugh said that Nuttall was en route to Dixon. At McRobert's crossing over the Chicago-Northwestern railroad tracks, the steering mechanism failed.

Ask Million For Old Bible

HOUSTON, Tex. (U)—An old Bible was offered for sale today for one million dollars.

Norman Malik Yonan of Washington, D. C., said his Bible is a fifth-century manuscript written in flowing Aramaic script.

Harold Todd, who is acting as sales agent for Yonan, said, "We've got two nibbles."

Dr. Kyle M. Yates, pastor of Houston's Second Baptist Church, said there is no way of knowing definitely how old the Bible is. "Mr. Yonan said it had been in his family since the time of the crusades, had been lost, and was only recently recovered," the pastor said.

$150,000 Estate Of Oregon Man Filed for Probate

OREGON — Three estates, one valued at more than $150,000, were admitted to probate Friday in Ogle county court.

Three cousins were listed as heirs in the estate of Harm G. Johnson, who died Feb. 13 at Oregon leaving $140,000 in real estate and $12,500 in personal property.

There was no will. Atty. S. D. Crowell, Oregon, was named administrator.

Heirs are Fannie Dirksen, Oregon, and Harm Van Brieson and Hilka Schumacher, both of Sullivan Valley.

Other estates admitted to probate were those of Paul E. Gilbert, rural Ashton, and Anna J. Bridgeland, Byron. The former died Feb. 3. Mrs. Bridgeland died Nov. 12, 1952.

The Gilbert estate was valued at $33,000 in real property and $2,500 in personal. The widow, Velma, was named sole beneficiary by terms of a will.

Other heirs listed were two daughters, Donna and Patsy, and a son, Everett, all of Ashton.

The widow was named executor. Two sons were named heirs and administrators of the estate of Mrs. Bridgeland, valued at $20,000 in real estate and $500 in personal property.

They are J. Boyd and A. Everett Bridgeland, both of Winnebago.

There was no will.

22 Airmen Flee Burning Plane

ROSWELL, N. M. (U)—Twenty-two airmen escaped unhurt when a B36 caught fire near the end of its landing roll shortly before midnight and burned to the ground.

The big six-engine bomber of the 28th Strategic Reconnaissance Wing was on a routine training flight from Rapid City Air Force Base in South Dakota.

Tree Falls on Sterling Man

STERLING, Ill. (U)—Abraham Wolber, 76, was killed Wednesday when he was crushed by a falling tree on his farm eight miles west of Sterling.

Coroner John Meyer said two men were cutting down the tree and Wolber apparently did not hear their shouts that it was falling.

Pulls Husband From Furnace

WARREN, O. (U)—Mrs. Virginia Champlin heard screams coming from the basement of her home at nearby Newton Falls Wednesday. Dashing down the stairs, she found that her husband, Raymond, 34, had crawled head first into the door of their blazing furnace.

She pulled him from the furnace, but he died shortly afterward in Warren St. Joseph's hospital.

His wife said Champlin had been in the hospital several hours before and told her he had taken an overdose of sleeping pills. He had been under a doctor's care for several days because of an "extremely nervous condition," she told Coroner Michael Cristo.

Obituaries

ASHTON—Charles L. Hunter, 74, former electric shop owner here, died Friday in KSB hospital where he had been a patient for a week.

Mr. Hunter operated an electric shop here for 12 years. He later continued working as an electrician from his home.

He had been a master of the Ashton AF & AM three times and was a member of Modern Woodman and the Presbyterian church.

Mr. Hunter came to Ashton as a youth with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Hunter. He was born Feb. 21, 1878, at Jefferson, Ia.

He married Kathryn Krug of Ashton Dec. 12, 1906.

She survives with his brother, Harry, Rochelle.

Services will be at 2 p. m. Friday in Clute funeral home. The Rev. Romaine Tenney will officiate. Burial will be in Ashton cemetery.

Masonic rites will be conducted at the graveside. Friends may call at the funeral home Thursday night.

Personals

Mrs. L. C. Albright has left for a visit in Reno, Nev., and then will go to Oroville, Calif., to visit her son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. Paul Goodwin and family. She will also spend some time in the Mt. Shasta area.

Mrs. Virginia Markee returned Monday from a two weeks vacation in Florida.

Ed Whitney, Rt. 4, Dixon, is a patient at Hines hospital having submitted to lung surgery about 10 days ago. He is making satisfactory recovery. His address is: Ward A-3, Room 324; V. A. Hospital; Hines, Ill.

swerved off the right side of the highway just as the cars collided on the Burner lane of traffic.

If that happened, Wadsworth contended, the Brown car, with the blown-out tire, would have whipped off the left edge of the Burner lane almost immediately.

Wadsworth said that probably happened was that the Burner car's left front may have been slightly over into Brown's lane of traffic.

When they collided, the spragging effect of the deflated left front tire on Brown's car would have forced the car off Burner's side of the road, 60 or 70 feet beyond the point of collision.

According to Wadsworth, his theory was more in line, physically, with what actually happened than the Burner-Maves testimony.

"Reasonable Doubt"
Wadsworth also contended that there was reasonable doubt existing as to whether Smith died from the collision or from a heart attack.

Dr. Edward S. Murphy, physician, Dixon, testified that he had treated Smith for his heart condition and that Smith could have died from an attack.

Frank D. Buckley, funeral director, Dixon, testified Wednesday afternoon that although Smith's body was bruised, there was no open breaks in the skin.

Dulles Tells Newsmen New Moves in Cold War

WASHINGTON (U)—Secretary of State Dulles has assured Allied nations the United States is seeking to avoid "political embarrassments and troubles" with them in charting new moves against Red China.

One of several actions under consideration, Dulles told a news conference Wednesday, is a naval blockade of the China coast. Another, he said, is stricter "enforcement" of United Nations recommendations against trade with China.

The whole range of "measures of varying kind which could be adopted," Dulles said, is under intensive study in the light of three considerations: "their feasibility, their military consequence and the degree of political embarrassment and troubles that might be caused by our allies."

It was Dulles' first news conference at the State Department since he became secretary.

Dulles was asked what the administration hopes to accomplish by repudiating "secret understandings . . . which permit enslavement of foreign peoples," as called for by President Eisenhower.

The proposed action, Dulles said, would "register dramatically what we believe to be the many breaches by the Soviet Union of the wartime understandings; and register equally dramatically the desire and hope of the American people that the captive people shall be liberated."

On other subjects, Dulles said: 1. A principal U. S. purpose in the Far East is to end fighting in Indochina and Korea on acceptable terms, and one way to go about this is to replace Western forces such as those of France and the U. S. with native troops so that Russia would no longer have the advantage of tying up

Western forces in combat with Soviet satellites.

2. This policy of relying more and more on native forces would apply to consideration of increased aid to Indochina. Also the U. S. will be glad to make available to France the experience of American officers in training Indo-Chinese troops.

3. In the Middle East the U. S. is considering giving aid to Egypt. Other officials said an 11 million dollar aid program is near approval. The State Department does not intend to follow a policy of cold-shouldering Israel.

not say much about them.

Bridges did say that the matter of military spending was brought up, and he added that in his judgment "we can make cuts in certain areas."

He said there was pro and con discussion of a report made public Wednesday by the Citizens Advisory Commission on utilization of manpower in the armed service.

Suggests Cut
That group, headed by David Sarnoff chairman of the board of Radio Corporation of America, recommended a cut of at least 10 per cent in the size of the nation's military forces and the defense budget.

In reply to a question, Bridges said that he is confident that military spending can be reduced if the problem is approached scientifically.

Dixon Woman Seeks Divorce

A complaint for divorce was filed today in the office of John O. Shaulis, circuit court clerk, by Mrs. Marie Brunett, 420 Barker av., charging her husband, George, with extreme and repeated cruelty.

They were married in Dixon on Nov. 25, 1937, and lived together until June, 1952. There were two children to the marriage.

In asking for the divorce, Mrs. Brunett requested that she be given custody of the children. She requested that her husband be made to pay alimony, child support, and reasonable attorney fees.

Happy Birthday

EVEN THE MUFFLER DOES THINGS TO THE POWER

ROADMASTER

CUSTOM BUILT BY BUICK

BACK in the old days, any man who wanted real performance used a "cut-out" on his car.

It was a device that by-passed the muffler—because mufflers have always cut down on usable power. But it made a lot of noise. Muffling that noise—and still getting rid of exhaust gases as fast as they come from the cylinders—has stumped the automobile people for years.

Now, Buick engineers have racked up another "first."

They have come up with a muffler of supreme quiet and zero power loss—first time in history.

It is called a dynamic flow muffler. And it is one of many advances that make the great 1953 Buick Roadmaster even greater.

For this automobile—the greatest Buick in fifty great years—has a brilliant new V8 Engine that can turn up 188 hp. And every one of its horsepower can be delivered as usable power—since none is restricted in muffler passage.

As you would expect, there is more to this magnificent motorcar than power, great though it is.

There's a still finer ride, better maneuverability, easier handling—now with Power Steering as standard equipment, and Power Brakes optional at extra cost.

And there's the amazing new Twin-Turbine Dynaflo bringing quieter, jet-fast getaway to complete and utter smoothness.

Why not come in and see for yourself just how great the greatest Buick in half a century really is?

Ogle Soil Group Electing Directors Today

Group to Name Two for Terms Of Two Years

OREGON—Election of directors of the Ogle County Soil Conservation district is being held today in the Farm Bureau hall here.

Candidates will be elected at this annual meeting from nominations made by a nominating committee and from any other candidates who may be nominated on the floor, according to Russell Hammer, Polo, chairman of the board.

In this election, two men will be elected to serve for two-year terms. The two directors whose terms expire are Lewis Pierce, Creston, and Harold Fruin, Stillman Valley. Other members of the board are Hammer; Hugh Blake, Leaf River, and Shelby Cain, Leaf River, whose terms expire in 1953.

The election will be conducted according to rules set up by the State Department of Agriculture. According to the state law, only landowners within the district are eligible to serve as directors. All landowners are entitled to vote in the election, either in person or by proxy.

Tenants may vote for their landlords, if they have the landlords sign an appropriate proxy.

R. J. Laible, agriculture adviser for Funk Bros. Seed company, will be the main speaker. Laible will tell of experience with wide-row corn planting as related to soil conservation.

The directors will be in charge of conducting a soil conservation program for the county with the assistance of John J. Conroy, Dale Edwards and Cliff Wishau, Soil Conservation Service representatives; George Perisho, the county farm adviser, and other agricultural workers in the county.

Father-Son Banquet Set At Pawpaw

PAWPAW — The Presbyterian guild met at the home of Mrs. Theodore Rosenkrans Tuesday evening for their regular meeting.

The business session was conducted by Mrs. Robert Torman, president.

Circle reports were heard. Circle 2 reported that it will sponsor a father and son banquet on March 17 at the church. It was voted to pay $100 toward church fund and pledge $100 toward basement fund.

Mrs. Floyd Nevins was a guest. She brought material for cancer bandages and the ladies made 12 dozen.

The next meeting will be held on March 24 at the home of Mrs. Joseph Safranek. The hostess served refreshments.

Church Group Views Movies of Its Activities

ELDENA — The Eldena E. U. B. Sunday school superintendent, Willard Kentner, projected color movies last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Quinn sr. They were films taken of the activities of the Homebuilders class and events of interest to its members.

Present to view them were Mr. and Mrs. Beecher Quinn, Mr. and Mrs. Kenny Quinn and son, Mr. and Mrs. Sammy Quinn and two sons, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Haeffner, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Quinn sr. and Mrs. Lyle Shippert, class teacher. The event was also a farewell to Pfc. Beecher Quinn who was to report to Ft. Sheridan next day.

Because most of the members are moving to new locations or being promoted to another class, the Homebuilders class of Eldena church will disband until further notice. However, all those interested in going to the passion play in Bloomington may contact Mrs. Lyle Shippert or Mrs. Carl Martenson.

Statue of 'Commoner' Causes Storm

LINCOLN, Neb.—(AP)—Nebraskans proudly grant a permanent place in history to William Jennings Bryan, but the question of a permanent place for his statue has them in a tizzy.

A bronze likeness of the Great Commoner, a Nebraska lawyer who became a presidential candidate and a Cabinet member, now looks northward from the front steps of Nebraska's State Capitol.

But a lot of people say it doesn't belong there. They can't agree where it should go.

There have been charges that things would be different if Bryan were not a Democratic political hero in what today is a Republican state.

GOP Denies It
Republicans sharply deny it. Though no one seems to want to say so, the real trouble may be simply that civic statuary is going out of date.

The Bryan Memorial Commission, of which Bryan's sister, Mrs. T. S. Allen, is a member, says the complaints it hears are that the statue interferes "with the architectural simplicity and symmetry of our famous capitol."

Former Gov. Val Peterson suggested the statue go to the new Historical Building being built down the street from the Capitol. Sorry, said James E. Lawrence, president of the State Historical Society, but there is not suitable place there for Bryan's likeness "or any other statuary."

A Solution?
The Legislature thought it had come up with a solution of its own when it passed a law last week giving itself sole power to move Capitol-bound memorials. But the law doesn't go into effect for 90 days.

Meanwhile, it has been proposed in the Legislature that the statue be moved from the front of the Capitol around to the side or back.

Almost unheard amidst the furor have been bids for the statue from Illinois College, Jacksonville, Ill., where Bryan studied; Salem, Ill., his birth place, and William Jennings Bryan University, Dayton, Tenn.

Kanai recovered from tuberculosis after 11 months at the sanatorium. The check was sent to Joseph Goldstone, president of the Imperial Pearl Syndicate of the United States and Chicago board leader of the relief society for the Denver sanatorium.

Blanks Explode,

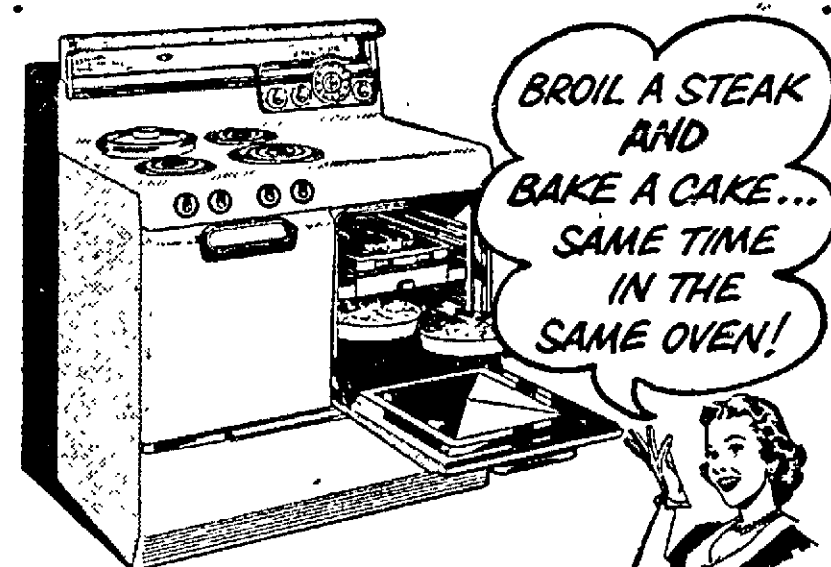

DENVER (AP)—A carnival side-show operator shot himself to death Wednesday with a gun and a blank cartridge.

Medical Examiner Steve Tucker said Oliver B. Roweth, 62, placed the muzzle of a 1905 Army Colt .45, loaded with six blank shells in his mouth and fired.

Tucker said Roweth apparently died of bleeding when his cheeks were blown away, or from concussion or shock.

Housewives Now Cook With Gas

TIJUANA, Mexico.—(AP)—Housewives of Brasil Avenue put away their umbrellas and went back to cooking with gas Wednesday night. It was the first time in 10 days they hadn't been showered with water when they turned on their stoves.

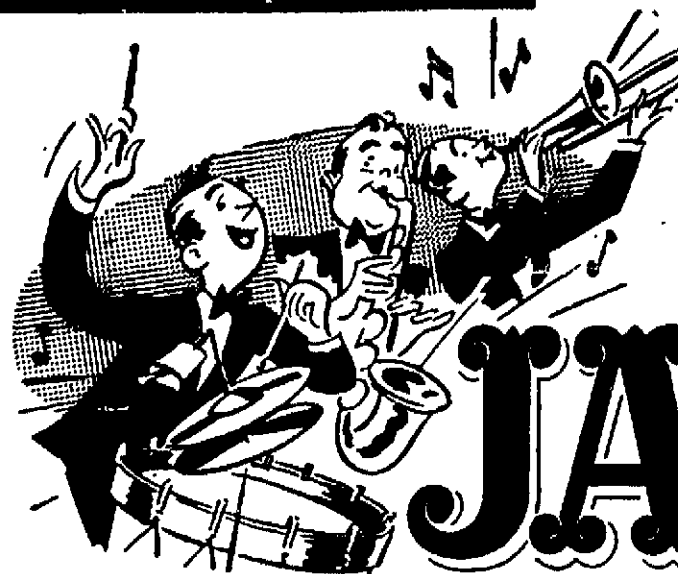

The gas company reported it finally had discovered somebody hooked a water line onto the gas pipe. The water backed up in the gas lines along the avenue and the housewives found themselves with kitchen fountains.

7-Legged Pig

ROCKY MOUNTAIN HOUSE, Alta.—(AP)—A pig with seven feet was brought to market by a farmer recently. The pig had the usual four legs, but there were two feet each on the front legs and on one of the rear legs. The pig appeared healthy in every respect.

Gorman-less Dukes at DeKalb Tomorrow

Dixon Senior Out Pending IHSA Ruling

Amboy, Polo, Ohio Ashton, Forreston, Steward at Home

The Dixon Dukes will travel to DeKalb Friday night for the first of two weekend games at full strength. The suspension which kept 12 members of the varsity from competing for a full week is expected to be lifted Friday morning in time for the Dukes to meet the Barbs.

However, Jim Gorman, senior and captain of the Dukes, and the workhorse for Dixon through the current campaign, will not be suited up for either game this weekend. School officials are awaiting a ruling on Gorman's eligibility over which question has arisen.

Athletic and school officials at the local high school were not ready today to comment on the circumstances which surround the case of Gorman's eligibility. Dixon Coach Lon Scofield did report that a call had been placed with Al Willis, secretary of the Illinois High School Association for a ruling. Scofield said that the Dixon side of the story was placed with the secretary.

However, Willis is on the West Coast at present and is not expected back until Wednesday. This means a ruling on Gorman cannot be anticipated before Thursday. Association officials advised Scofield to keep Gorman out of action pending the secretary's decision.

Without Gorman and because of the zone used by the Barbs, Scofield is planning a line-up of Larry Lund or Karl Olsen at center, Jerry Curran and Jim DeYoung or Pat Kernan at forwards and Jack Munson and Merle Pittman at guards.

After visiting DeKalb, the Dukes will return home to wind up the regular season. Saturday, the Dukes will play host to Normal Community high of Bloomington and a week from Friday will close the season when Mendota visits Dukedom for a North Central conference game.

Fans are reminded that no tickets will be sold at the door for the conference game tomorrow night at DeKalb. Tickets must be purchased in advance, either at the high school or Falls.

Mendota, still seeking its second conference victory after five losses, will be at home to Rock Falls in an NCIC tilt. The Rockets have been on the skids, losing seven straight games before topping Morrison Saturday. Rock Falls has lost its last four straight loop contests.

Like Mendota, Rochelle will be after its second conference win when the Hubs travel to Geneseo. Rochelle is in last place with a 1-6 mark while Geneseo has a 4-3 record, good for fourth place. The Hubs, victims of several close games in the past have been coming to life recently and winding up on the winning side of the nlp and tuck tilts.

Hall Township visits Sterling and Ottawa visits Princeton in other conference games. Sterling trails Ottawa by one game for the lead in the loop standings.

In other action around the area, Mt. Morris will play a visit to Polo for a Blackhawk conference game while hoping that Oregon can stop loop leading Lanark and help the Mounters back on top. The Mounters trail Lanark by half a game. Oregon is fourth and Polo fifth in the league.

Little Eight play finds Ohio entertaining Tiskilwa in the loop windup while front running Manlius is host to Bureau. Ohio trails Manlius by a full game and can only take a share of first place if Manlius loses and Ohio wins.

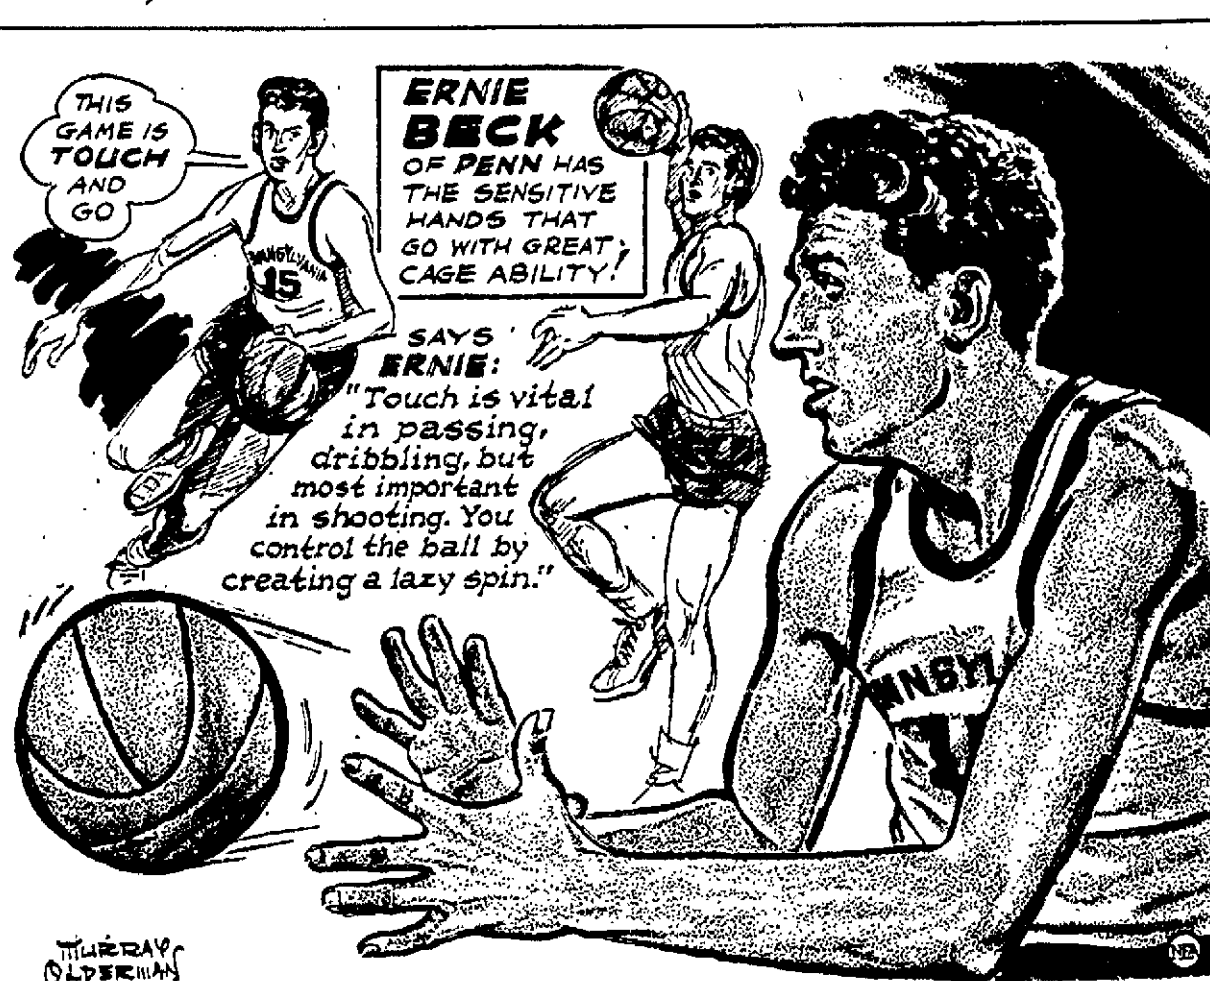

Ashton will go after a .500 record in Route 72 play when the Aces entertain Winnebago, second place club. The Aces will also be interested in keeping above the .500 mark for the season. Ashton presently has a 10-10 record.

Forreston, which already has captured the Route 72 title, will play host to Pecatonica. The Cardinals currently are enjoying a 23 game winning streak.

In non-loop battles, the Amboy Clippers will be shooting for victory number seven in an attempt to close up the gap with their 11 losses when they play host to Millidgeville. This will be the next to the last game of the season for the Clippers who complete regular season play Tuesday against Ashton unless Amboy Coach Larry Martens can replace Newman of Sterling which had to drop the Clippers at the last minute because of overscheduling.

Fawpaw and Steward will preview their district tournament clash at Steward tomorrow night. The two teams meet in the first round of the Maple Park district which opens Tuesday.

Wildcats Top Sterling J. V. In 75-63 Tilt

FRANKLIN GROVE (Special) — The Franklin Grove Wildcats rolled to their sixth victory of the season last night by defeating the Sterling Junior Varsity, 75-63.

After trailing the Junior Warriors at the end of the first period, 19-21, the Wildcats cut loose with an 18 point second period to grab a seven point halftime lead, 37-30.

Sterling, once closed the gap to three points in the third quarter, but could get no closer and for the most part, the wildcats kept seven points in front.

Franklin Grove hit for 28 points in the fourth period to pin the hopes Sterling had with a 20 point finale.

Dave Knapp with nine baskets and eight free throws topped the Wildcats with 26 points. John Miller and Lane McMillion had 18 and 17 points for the winners. Neesse with 20 points led the Jr. Warriors.

The box score:

Miceli Wins Split Decision in Upset Over Bobby Dykes

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Joe Miceli, aggressive New York soldier, plans a campaign in the middleweight ranks after chopping out a 10-round decision over Bobby Dykes in the Coral Gables Coliseum Wednesday night.

Miceli who used a slashing left to pile up a heavy point margin against the favored Dykes in the early rounds, is scheduled to leave the service in a month. He said he plans to go after a shot at the middleweight crown vacated by Sugar Ray Robinson.

Miceli, the aggressor throughout the fight, brushed away Dykes' long left jabs and scored heavily in the first four rounds. Dykes rallied in the fifth and the fight was close the rest of the way but Miceli's early edge was sufficient to carry him through.

Judge Mark Erwin gave Miceli the decision, 97 points to 96. Referee Billy Regan voted for Miceli, 96 to 93. Judge Jerry Sherrard gave it to Dykes, 97 to 94.

Prep Feature in Southwest

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Collinsville tangles with East St. Louis in a stand-out attraction on the downstate Illinois prep basketball weekend card.

With Edwardsville, these two stalwarts are engaged in a tight three-cornered race for the Southwestern Conference crown and recognition as their area's top state title threat.

Collinsville dealt East St. Louis its only defeat in the last 13 games when the two clubs squared off in a previous encounter, and Coach Pick Dehner's lads will be out for revenge in tonight's bout.

Edwardsville, No. 4 state title favorite among downstate teams, travels to Wood River tonight and to Alton on Friday in high hopes of notching a victory in each place.

Tough Games
Two other highly regarded contenders that may encounter difficulties are Peoria Central, which engages Peoria Manual on Saturday, and Jacksonville, host on Friday.

WHAT'S the SCORE?

By NORM JOLLOW

THE LOSS OF JIM GORMAN for the weekend games and quite possibly for the remainder of the season, will undoubtedly make all Dixon's cage hopes just that much harder to achieve, but while giving all due recognition to Gorman's ability, it is worth while remembering the situation when Karl Olsen injured his arm two months ago.

At that time, the theory that prevailed was that Olsen gone, the Dukes' hopes dimmed almost to the going out point. However, it was after the loss of Olsen that the Dukes began working more as a team and that ultimately brought them to their best games of the season.

NOW WITH GORMAN GONE, it will be up to the remaining 13 varsity players to knuckle down again to the hard task of taking up the slack.

Reports out of the gymnasium indicate that the Dukes are raring to go in spite of all that has befallen them in the past two weeks. The squad has been putting in some rugged hours of practice since the suspension order and show a fire not often seen in the past.

DISTRICT TOURNAMENT officials have been announced for the events which open next week. Two from Dixon, Paul Potts and George Covert, have drawn assignments with Potts going to Maple Park and Covert calling them at Stillman Valley.

Paired with Potts is Clarence Blubaum of Aurora while Covert will work with William Calacci of Rockford.

Martin Masear of Mendota and Joseph Starcevic of Peoria will handle the Tiskilwa district.

IT HAS BEEN REVEALED that the Junior Chamber of Commerce is trying to get the Harlem Globetrotters back to Dixon on March 9. The Trotters have been here on three or four occasions in the past and were here last year.

The Jaycees are now waiting word from the fanciest ball club in the country. If the Trotters can make it, the game will be put on for the benefit of the Dixon Youth Center.

THE LATEST REPORT on the Old Timers game revealed a net profit of $594 with about $50 more expected to come in shortly.

Plan District Cage Meet for NAIA Colleges at Illinois

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—The district No. 20 playoff for the National Intercollegiate basketball tournament will be at the University of Illinois March 3-4 with four top Illinois college teams competing. The winner will qualify for the national tournament at Kansas City.

The teams will be selected by district officials in Champaign March 1. Leading candidates are Eastern Illinois, Southern Illinois, State Normal, McKendree, Illinois Wesleyan, Wheaton and Millikin.

Baseball Spring Training Time Again: Stanky Fined

By BEN PHLEGAR
Eddie Stanky fined himself $9.33. Stanky himself was 4 1/2 pounds over and paid $9.

At Brooklyn's lavish Vero Beach, Fla., layout, Roy Campanella pointed to the scales with pride as he weighed 203, almost 18 pounds under his World Series weight of last season.

At the West Palm Beach camp of the Philadelphia Athletics, pitcher Harry Byrd, last year's American League Rookie of the Year, went to bed with the flu.

The Phillies, who haven't opened camp as yet, also had hospital news. Third baseman Willie Jones is suffering from abdominal pains and doctors at his home in Laurinburg, N. C., diagnosed his trouble as possible kidney stones.

Walt Droppo, Detroit first baseman, dropped in on his old college grounds at the University of Connecticut and put on a demonstration for the university's baseball candidates.

Out in San Bernardino, Calif., the St. Louis Browns, rounding out a full week of training, spent the day practicing rundown plays between home plate and third base.

Other developments Wednesday: Billy Pierce, ace left-hander of the Chicago White Sox, picked the Yankees as the class of the American League but warned the folks not to overlook the revamped Chicago entry.

The Chicago Cubs open today at Mesa, Ariz.

IBC Proposes Bout: Young Vs. Durando

NEW YORK (AP)—The last hitch to the first match in the tournament to find an American middleweight challenger may be removed today.

Harry Markson of the International Boxing Club said he expects to get a cable from Jack Solomons, the London promoter, clearing the way for a Paddy Young-Ernie Durando match here March 27.

Young had signed with Solomons for a fight in London March 17 against Randy Turpin, the former world champion.

It was understood here that Walter Cartier, a better than average New York middleweight, had been offered to Solomons as a replacement for Young.

The IBC announced the Young-Durando match Wednesday.

The tournament calls for the winner of the Durando-Young battle to fight Carl (Bobo) Olson of San Francisco for the American title.

When last heard from, Olson and his manager, Sid Flaherty, were violently opposed to this routine, claiming they already had a fight for the "world title" with Turpin in London June 9.

Amboy, Marseilles In Grade Finals

AMBOY (Special) — Amboy and Marseilles will meet tonight for the heavyweight grade school sectional title. No consolation game will be played and the championship game will get under way at 7:30 p.m.

Last night, Marseilles eliminated Oglesby, 57-35. Amboy reached the finals when Cornell forfeited its game. Cornell had lost to Stillman Valley but the Valley team had to forfeit because of overscheduling. Cornell then decided, against making the long trip back for the tourney.

The line score:
Marseilles 25 11 12 2-57
Oglesby 11 5 10 9-35
High scorers: Marseilles—Gibson 17; Oglesby—DeCaroli 12.

Runyon-Like Nicknames Found in Racing Files

By JOHN CHANDLER
NEW YORK (AP)—Coast to Coast Gracie could pitch an alcoholic wing-ding at a race track that would give the management fits, and Silk Hat Harry made them tremble too.

Silk Hat Harry was a known pickpocket, an associate of Los Angeles hoodlums, who was recognized and ejected from Hollywood Park. Coast to Coast Gracie has been bounced from many race tracks for hanging around the club house bars and bumming drinks.

These and hundreds of other nicknames that sound like inventions of the late Damon Runyon are found in the confidential files of the Thoroughbred Racing Protective Bureau, racing's FBI.

Zoot Suit
Some are crooks and shady characters, but most are racing people who for some reason have gained an odd nickname. The file runs from Abbie the Agent to Zoot Suit.

"This nickname file is vital in our work," said Spencer Drayton, the TRPB director, and former FBI man. He cited one case.

TRPB agents were investigating a stimulation case in Detroit where a groom said he had heard Blue Boy talking about the doped horse.

"Who is Blue Boy? where can we find him?" The groom had no idea.

Agents finally located him at the New Orleans Fair Grounds and obtained enough information to clinch their case.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By JOE STETSON
Dog Editor

It is astonishing how many times the question of the logic of crossbreeding recurs. The subject has been brought up and presumably disposed of so often that I was surprised when Art Murray, who has had hunting dogs of one kind or another for years, asked: "What kind of luck would I have breeding my pointer to my good setter bitch?"

In a cross such as he contemplated there is a great deal in common between the two breeds. They are similar in general size and proportion and they have been bred for many generations to perform the same duties—namely to seek upland game birds, to point them upon discovery and when desired and trained for it, to flush and/or retrieve upon command.

"Both parents are good hunters from good hunting stock," I replied. "The chances are that the pups will be good hunters. In fact, such crosses have been made before and the offspring are commonly called 'droppers.' From the hunting standpoint the idea would be reasonable.

"On the other hand," I continued, "how about appearance? Some of the pups would be long haired, some short haired and some would seem to be short haired with feather in the strangest combinations. More important, it would be impossible to predict accurately the appearance of puppies in future generations."

"I'm not concerned about appearance," said Art, "just so long as a dog works well."

"That's all very well to say," I replied, "but there's no man who wouldn't want the dog he loves and is so proud of to be as good looking as possible. In breeding we should think of soundness, good temperament and functional ability first, but while we are acquiring these things we can also be giving appearance some consideration along the way.

"What are you going to do with the pups you don't keep?" I asked.
"Sell them, of course," was the answer.
"And who would pay you any kind of a price for a pup that could not be registered, whose mature appearance would be questionable and whose offspring would be unpredictable and unregistrable?"

"What would you do then?" asked Art.

"I'd look for a setter dog that is as good a hunter and as attractive looking as your pointer dog and have your setter bitch bred to him. Incidentally, Art," I continued, "your idea is not nearly as far off base as some of the brainstorms in crossbreeding that come my way. Some folks want to cross pointers with beagles to get a dog that will point birds and give tongue on rabbits. Others think that a beagle retriever cross will get them a dog that will retrieve rabbits after running them.

"Let's try not to undo what has taken breeders many years of careful selective breeding to accomplish."

Bevo Stays at Rio Grande, Will Stick by Coach Oliver

RIO GRANDE, O. (AP)—Clarence (Bevo) Francis, the hottest thing in college basketball today, says he will stick by Rio Grande College and the coach who pushed him into national prominence.

Bevo denied he was going to leave Rio Grande and blamed misinterpretation of statements he made over the radio station for the report he might quit.

On a Portsmouth, O., radio station, Bevo had been asked if he intended to remain with the Red-men for his entire college career. He replied:

"Yes, if they're going to have a bigger schedule, I'll stay there." Asked if that meant he would go elsewhere if a schedule with big-time teams wasn't provided, Francis, who leads college cage scorers with 1,646 points in 33 games, answered:

"Well . . . if I know Coach Oliver, we'll have a bigger schedule." Bevo said Wednesday he believed the statement had been misunderstood. He said he assured Oliver he had no intentions of quitting.

"I'll go wherever Oliver goes," Bevo promised. "I owe him everything for my success. I'll play for him even if he wants to schedule high school teams. . . ."

Oliver said Rio Grande will definitely reach for bigger teams next season, adding:

"We're a good team, not a great team. I don't think we are quite ready for the Big Ten."

Ike, Dulles Pass Tests: Newsmen

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles have now taken their plunges into the chilly, and sometimes slippery, pool called the Washington news conference.

They swam around all right, kept their heads above water, and neither seemed to be breathing hard when the dip was over. Eisenhower held his conference Tuesday. Dulles held his Wednesday.

asked for, and did not volunteer, any help on answers.

Dulles walked into his news conference without any notes. In this he was unlike his predecessor, Dean Acheson, who always walked in with prepared notes in a black book.

Press aides Michael McDermott and Lincoln White, who held the same job under previous secretaries, together with Carl McCordie, assistant secretary of state for public affairs, a Dulles appointee, sat with Dulles. He sought no help from the three during the conference.

Call letters assigned to broadcast stations often spell simple words. For example there are WHO of Des Moines, Ia.; WHOM of New York; WEST of Easton, Pa.; WIRE of Indianapolis; WOOD of Grand Rapids, Mich.; and WORK of York, Pa.

Demos Believe They Have Issue in Low Farm Prices

WASHINGTON — Democrats displayed quiet confidence today that they have found an issue which may win them the 1954 elections and perhaps lay the basis for a return to national power in 1956. Many Republicans take issue with that appraisal.

The issue is falling farm prices and the views of Republican Secretary of Agriculture Benson, which Democratic lawmakers assert are opposed to high-level, mandatory price supports.

GOP Senate Leader Taft of Ohio conceded Wednesday that "if the Republicans don't do better than the Democrats did in the last two years" in checking farm price drops, "we probably will lose the next election."

But Taft scornfully added this should not be a hard task because, he said, "under the Democrats, farm prices have been going down for the last two years."

The Agriculture Department, meanwhile, reported an advance in hog prices and officials there cited it as evidence supporting their contention there is a firm foundation under the agricultural situation.

A department market survey showed prices of hogs paid producers on eight major Midwestern markets have gone up an average of $1.76 for 100 pounds since mid-January. That is about 9.7 per cent. Further, the department said, hog prices on those same markets now average about $2.65 for 100 pounds above those of a year ago.

Alm at Benson
Democratic congressmen made no secret of their plans to continue the sort of drumfire attacks on Benson which followed a controversial speech the secretary made last week. Some Democrats contended Benson indicated little sympathy with present farm price support programs.

Democrats from farm states say they already are getting letters from dirt farmers attacking Benson, some demand that he be fired.

Sen Fulbright (D-Ark) came to the floor Wednesday with a 3,000-word speech sharply critical of Benson's utterances as secretary. Taft remained on the floor for Fulbright's talk and repeatedly engaged in heated exchanges with him.

GI Admits Slaying Officer

FT. DIX, N. J. — A young Brooklyn soldier, described as a former mental patient, was held today in connection with the death of a lieutenant who at first was believed killed accidentally while on training maneuvers, Army authorities said.

Capt. Harry Lapham, public information officer at this Army post, said Pvt. Edgar Owens, 21, has admitted shooting the lieutenant in a signed statement, but that no motive was determined.

An investigation into the death last week of Lt. Richard M. Davenport, 22, New London, Conn., determined that he "apparently was murdered," said Maj. Gen. Homer W. Kiefer, commander of the 9th Infantry Division.

"Owens will be charged with murder in the next 48 hours," Lapham said Wednesday.

Davenport's death was first attributed to fragments of a shell that exploded 225 feet away in training maneuvers.

An autopsy later disclosed that it was a .30-caliber M-1 rifle bullet. Lapham said ballistics tests showed the fatal bullet came from Owens' rifle.

Owens had been treated at the Pilgrim State hospital for about five months. He joined the army three months later, his father, William, told reporters in New York. The father said the Army never should have accepted him.

Hold On, Doc!

DENVER — An 8-year-old boy, who has been a patient at Children's Hospital because of brain inflammation, appeared at a mid-winter clinic of the Colorado Medical Society Wednesday.

The presiding doctor asked the boy to leave his wheelchair and walk. The boy obeyed but held his hands tight against his waist.

"Can't you move your hands, son?" asked the doctor.

"No," said the boy.

"Do your hands hurt?"

"No."

"Will you try and move them for me?"

"No," said the boy. "I've got to hold up my pajama pants."

Seek to Halt Picketing at News Plant

WAUKEGAN, Ill. — A hearing will begin today on a permanent court order to halt mass picketing by striking printers at the Waukegan News-Sun.

Circuit Court Judge Bernard Decker Wednesday granted a change of venue asked by 16 members of the AFL International Typographical Union who struck the newspaper Jan. 9. He appointed City Judge L. Eric Carey of Zion, Ill., to hear the arguments on a permanent injunction sought by 16 non-striking News-Sun employees who won a temporary injunction Feb. 7.

Mass picketing at the newspaper plant Feb. 5-6 hampered publication and caused home deliveries to be suspended.

Publisher Frank H. Just has said he will not bargain with the ITU until it is certified by the National Labor Relations Board. The ITU had bargained for News-Sun printers until 1947, when the composing room force dropped from the union.

Chicagoans Fined For Beating Given Justice of Peace

DECATUR, Ill. — A Chicago man was fined $211.20 Wednesday for fighting with a justice of the peace who refused to marry him to a Chicago woman he allegedly kidnapped.

Michael L. Rude, 33, who pleaded guilty to a disorderly conduct charge before Justice of the Peace Ernest Booker, has been charged by the Cook County state's attorney's office with the kidnapping of Geraldine Elizabeth Duche, 27.

Justice of the Peace W. R. Duxheimer said Rudes and Miss Duche came to him in Decatur last Friday to be married. Duxheimer said he ended the ceremony when the woman refused to say, "I do."

Duxheimer told police Rudes pushed him into a chair, knocked him to the floor, gagged him and shoved him into a closet when he declined to continue the ritual.

Miss Duche said she had known Rudes for several years but broke off the friendship last October. She said Rudes thrust her into his auto last week, brought her to Decatur to be married, and threatened to "kick me in the head and kill my folks if I objected."

Rudes is to appear in Felony Court in Chicago, March 2 on the kidnapping charge.

Judge O'Connor Of Aurora Dies

AURORA, Ill. — Charles A. O'Connor, 62, circuit judge of the 16th judicial district since 1942 and former state's attorney, died Wednesday.

O'Connor, who was in ill health for about two years, died in St. Joseph Mercy hospital where he had been a patient for two months.

In addition to his circuit judgeship, he was a member of the appellate court for the third district until his resignation several weeks ago. He was master in chancery of Kane county from 1934 to 1936 and state's attorney from 1936 to 1940.

A native of Findlay, O., O'Connor began law practice in Aurora in 1913 after graduating from the University of Illinois.

He leaves a daughter, Mrs. Suzanne Margaret Howard of Chicago, and a son, Charles A. O'Connor Jr., a student at Marquette university, Milwaukee. His wife died several years ago.

FCC Grants New Station Permits

WASHINGTON — The Federal Communications Commission Wednesday issued permits for one new FM and one new standard radio station in Illinois.

The FM permit went to Chicago Skyway Broadcasting Co., Chicago, on channel 382.

The permit for a standard station was given to Streater Broadcasting Co., Streator, Ill., 1250 kilocycles, 500 watts, daytime only.

WCBS, Inc., withdrew its application for TV channel 20 at Springfield, Ill., leaving Great Plains Television Properties unopposed for that channel.

Man Is Killed

ST. LOUIS — A despondent 65-year-old man brought fresh flowers to the grave of his childhood sweetheart here Wednesday, then apparently shot himself.

The man, August G. Cramer of Quincy, Ill., died of a head wound shortly after he was found slumped over the grave.

Mrs. Edward Boyens of St. Louis told police Cramer left St. Louis after the death of his sister, Della Decker, 64, in May, 1951. She said the couple had been childhood sweethearts.

In Cramer's clothing police found a note which read: "When I lost Della I lost everything I cared for. I can't carry on any longer without Della."

John Adams and John Quincy Adams, father and son, were the first two U.S. presidents who served only one term each.

Refuse Man Jail Cell For Debts

HAYWARD, Calif. (AP)—The city of Hayward refused to revive an old Anglo-Saxon custom with a new twist: imprisonment for debt—at the debtor's request.

John Q. Silva, 65-year-old farmer, stormed into the Alameda County sheriff's substation.

"I want to go to jail because I can't pay my bills," he told Sgt. Bert Harrison Wednesday.

He produced a paper bag stuffed with due notes. Most were for back taxes. One was a $1,200 sewer assessment.

The sergeant shook his head. It wouldn't be legal, he said.

Outraged, Silva started a scuffle in which two windows were broken. Deputies obliged Silva then, jailing him for malicious mischief.

When the case came before Municipal Judge Lester Foley, the court sent Silva home.

"It's poor psychology to jail a man who wants to go to jail," the judge said. "And what's the use of fining a man with so many bills?"

Candidate for Governor Loses $5,000 in Gyp

CHICAGO (AP)—Clarence E. Biederman, a former candidate for governor of Iowa testified Wednesday he was gyped out of $5,000 by one of three men accused of swindling $160,000 from Iowa and Illinois residents.

Biederman, an Osage, Ia. farmer and Progressive Party candidate for governor in 1948, testified in Federal Court he gave Edward J. Tousey, 68, of Menlo Park, Cal., a check for $2,000 and a promissory note for $3,000 in Sept., 1947. Biederman said the check was to invest in Central Underwriters Corp.

Tousey, who has not been apprehended, Donald H. Norton, 45, Chicago, and Owen C. McCormick, 72, Excelsior, Minn., were named in a 13-count Federal Grand Jury indictment Nov. 1.

The government charged that they got about $120,000 from 20 investors in Iowa and $40,000 from 15 Illinois residents by selling stock in non-existent insurance companies from 1947 to 1950.

The Illinois Department of Insurance reported that Central Indemnity Co., of Peoria, Ill., set up by the three men, had assets of $23,000 and not $200,000 as listed.

The men allegedly operated through Central Underwriters in Des Moines although the firm is not licensed as an insurance company.

Tuesday Rudolph Fauls of Des Moines, and Verle Allbee of Waterloo, Ia., testified they lost a total of $14,595 to Norton and McCormick.

Longtime Urge

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP)—M. Sgt. William G. Reid remembers the day 30 years ago when he suddenly enlisted in the U. S. Army.

William, then 18, was delivering groceries in a horse and wagon in his home town when he saw the famous recruiting poster with Uncle Sam pointing at him and saying, "I Want You."

He pulled up his horse and wagon, went in and enlisted and has been in the Army ever since. "I guess they must have sent someone to pick up the horse and wagon," he smiled. Married and with an 8-year-old son, Williams draws $459 a month in Army pay.

The radio tube is taking on more assignments in the electronic art. Among them are metal detection, radio heating, electron microscopy, electronic metering and beverage inspection.

This Bread Is a Balanced Food

Here are recipes for the Missouri Agriculture Experiment Station's bread, using either dried or fresh whole milk.

Measured Loaf
(Dried whole milk and eggs)
Three cups enriched flour, 1/2 cup dried whole milk, 3/4 cup dried whole eggs, 3 tablespoons margarine or butter, 2 tablespoons sugar, 1 cake compressed yeast or 1 cake dried yeast, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 cup water.

Measure milk and eggs without sifting and press eggs down in the measuring cup to get full amount.

Sift two cups of the flour with the dried milk. Reconstitute the dried eggs by adding 1/2 cup of water and beating slowly with a rotary beater until smooth consistency. Dissolve the sugar and salt in 1/4 cup of water. Soften the yeast by crumbling it in the remaining 1/4 cup of water. Melt the butter or margarine in a bowl placed over hot water.

Combine the eggs, sugar, salt, yeast, and butter or margarine. Add half the flour-milk mixture and stir. Finally add the last cup of flour, half at a time, stirring after adding. Use same directions for kneading, shaping and baking as used for the loaf made with fresh whole milk and eggs which follows:

Measured Loaf
(Fresh whole milk and eggs)
Four cups enriched white flour, 3/4 cup fresh whole milk, 3 fresh whole eggs, 3 tablespoons butter or margarine, 2 tablespoons sugar, 1 cake compressed yeast, 1 teaspoon salt; no water needed.

Sift flour before measuring. Scald the milk, add sugar, salt and butter or margarine. Allow to cool to lukewarm temperature, about 80 to 85 degrees F. Add yeast and beaten eggs. Add half the flour and beat three minutes. Add the rest of the flour, about a half cup at a time, and stir after adding.

Kneading—Remove the dough from the bowl to a pastry cloth or bread board and knead until smooth, elastic and satiny. Place dough in a bowl which has capacity about 2 1/2 times as large as the un-risen dough. Grease top of dough lightly, cover with a plate, cloth or waxed paper and set in a warm place—80 to 85 degrees F. to rise.

When doubled in bulk—in about 2 hours—punch down, folding edges toward center. Turn the dough in the bowl so that the smooth side is up and allow to rise again until doubled in bulk.

Shaping and baking—Remove the dough to the pastry or bread board and proceed as follows:

1. Beat dough into an oblong shape with the heel of the hand.
2. Fold the dough lengthwise through the center and pound from the fold outward.
3. Fold 1/2 of the way from both ends toward center and pound from the folds.

4. Repeat step 3.
5. Gently roll the dough until the length is equal to the length of the loaf pan. Place dough in pan with fold of dough underneath. Cover with a cloth or wax paper and let rise in a warm place for 45 to 50 minutes.

6. At the end of the rising period, bake in a pre-heated oven at 380 degrees for 40 to 45 minutes.

Remove the baked bread from the pan immediately after baking and place on a wire rack or across edges of the pan to cool. When thoroughly cool, store.

Note—The loaf made with fresh whole milk and fresh whole eggs had higher moisture content so that it was necessary to use more flour, to handle the dough. Resulting loaf was larger than that made with dried milk and eggs.

Free 'Want Ads'

RIO DE JANEIRO—The Journal do Comercio, one of Rio's leading morning papers, has come up with an allegedly new device for promoting the use of its classified columns.

The paper has announced that all persons taking an annual subscription will be given a credit for want ads equivalent to the price of the subscription.

CONVENT-BOUND—Actress June Haver, above, has announced that she plans to give up her film career, and enter convent. She hopes some day to become a Sister of Charity, and to "consecrate my life to the service of God in His sick and in His children."

Woman Motorist Goes on Spree

FRESNO, Calif.—A 26-year-old woman motorist was finally overhauled by a police car after a wild ride which resulted in her being charged with nine traffic violations.

Before a police officer arrested her she had hit a school bus, an automobile and an electric signal. The officer had to crash his car into hers to make her stop. Then while he was radioing headquarters she suddenly stepped on the gas and zoomed away in her convertible. The policeman took off in pursuit.

This time she sideswiped a car and was zipping along at 80 miles per hour on the left side of the road before overtaken the second time. Three charges of hit-and-run were placed against her, three of not stopping at stop signs, in addition to speeding, ignoring a patrolman's signals to stop and reckless driving.

Errors Don't Halt Counterfeiter

OKINAWA (U)—The world's worst counterfeiter is still in business, the Army admits ruefully. The chief provost marshal on Okinawa, said recently that bills with glaring misspellings and other errors are turning up with "astonishing regularity." Lt. Col. William E. Walkup, said all occupation personnel in Okinawa and local businessmen have been warned to look out for $10 counterfeit military payment certificates. The certificates are military money equal in value to U. S. dollars.

The Army said that among other discrepancies the more obvious were: misspelling the words "regulations," "certificate" and "establishments." In "E Pluribus Unum" the "E" is backwards, the "P" is omitted and the first two words are joined together into one word.

UN Troops Urged To 'Go Home'

SAN FRANCISCO (U)—The Communists are "distributing" 1853 diaries to U. S. and British troops at the front with such mottoes as "Go home! Don't fill a grave in faraway Korea," says Peiping radio.

The Chinese Communist broadcast heard here did not say how the diaries were being "distributed." Presumably, they are left in front of Allied positions by Chinese Communist patrols.

The Communists even borrowed Shakespeare for this little propaganda stunt. Says Peiping of the diary: "It is capped, on the facing page, with Shakespeare's homely advice, 'East or west, home is best!'"

Instrument Can Affect Teeth

ROCHESTER, N. Y. —The instrument that junior wants to play in the school band may not be the one that's best for his teeth, says Dr. Barnett Frank, chairman of the dental health education committee of the Rochester Dental Society.

Dr. Frank, who has made a study of instrument playing as related to teeth, says a child with protruding upper teeth should play an instrument with a cup mouthpiece. If it is the lower teeth that protrude, the clarinet or saxophone might be the instrument to take up.

In all cases an orthodontist should make the final decision as to what instrument should be prescribed, Dr. Frank says.
